Why Not Modernize Methods Of Congress As Well As Offices?

THEY are proposing to spend $3,000,000 for an additional office building for the house of representatives in Washington, in order that representatives, like senators, may have at least two office rooms apiece. As it is, house members have one office and no clerks. Each congressman's reception room was his own parlor, or the parlor of his board, in which to receive visitors, hold conferences, and house three or four clerks.

There was a time, not so many years ago, when Congressmen had no offices at all, and his office was his desk on the floor of the house of representatives chamber, where he wrote his own letters, by hand with a pen. His business with the departments he conducted by tramping around to them himself, on his own feet. And yet, there was more attention to public affairs, and more reputation to be made in congress then than now.

The new offices are of course needed. Modern business methods make modern equipment necessary. But if half as much attention were paid to modernizing the method of congress itself as to the physical equipment, and assistance to congressmen for their personal work, it might save the people the price of a dozen office buildings in a single week.

INEFFECTIVE and "futile." This is the newest form of propaganda against President Coolidge. It is acknowledged that the people are with him, and that he is generally right and honest, usually wrong on the things on which they differ. But it is claimed that he lacks the power to "make" congress do things, and that the failure of congress must therefore be laid to his account.

Results will have to show whether there is foundation for this complaint. But the interesting thing is the revelation of our changed attitude toward executive and legislative responsibility. Definitely, we demand of the president leadership, and we judge him, not merely by the richness of his policies, but by his success in getting congress to adopt them. We have made a prime minister of the president.

A NORTH Carolina paper which tried the experiment for a week of leaving out all news of crimes reports it a failure. Part of the subscribers stopped the paper, and the rest voted, sixty to one, to have the crime news back. So, since the people want it, is demonstrated that the newspaper, as a business proposition, should print the news of crimes. And it could also be demonstrated that, since the people ought to have it, the newspaper, as an altruistic proposition, ought to print it. Whatever class of news is systematically left out of the papers, rumor will immediately take its place. And the worst newspaper is better than the best rumor.

"WHAT is to be done? That is for the lawmakers to say." So argues the most widely-read of the cynics on prohibition. The trouble is that it is not true. It is not for the "lawmakers," but for the law enforcers and the people. There is nothing the lawmakers can do. They might theoretically make minor changes in the Volstead Act, but any changes that would interest the "wets" would be unconstitutional and would be thrown out by the supreme court.

The law is there to stay, and could not be changed, substantially, even if there were any possibility of getting lawmakers who wished to do so. And that is impossible. Most of the "wet" vote is concentrated, to make a huge majority in a few districts all of which already have wet representatives. So electing a wet congress is an impossibility, and it could not constitutionally pass any wet law, even if it were elected.

Is there, then, "nothing to do?" Yes; two things. The enforcement officers can enforce the law well or ill. The people can obey or disobey it. That is all.

Gloria Is Cheered By Throng in L. A.

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—A cheering throng of 2000 persons greeted Gloria Swanson when she came home today on a special train. Gloria and her new husband, the Marquis de la Palais, arrived on the same train with 200 delegates to Paramount Picture Company's first international convention.

Bands blared and the huge crowd of admirers shouted their approval of Gloria and the marquis. The famous star wept with sheer joy at the rousing homecoming, and shed a few tears on the marquis's shoulder.

4 Lose Lives In Lake Erie Storm

PORT STANLEY, Ont., April 24.—Four men and their small power boat were lost in Sunday's storm on Lake Erie, it is believed certain here today. Messages received last night from Cleveland said the body of one of the men had been picked up by a fishing tug.

WANT TRADE SETTLEMENT PARIS, April 24.—Franco-German trade negotiations will be resumed Monday. French merchants are anxious for a settlement, alarmed by an inexplicable increase in German imports of late.

Serbia Sends Sharp Note to Bulgaria

GREEKS RUSH NEW FORCES TO FRONTIER

Intolerable Situation on Bulgarian Border Cause Of Excitement In Athens

20,000 ARE IN PRISONS

Member of Parliament Reports 250 Communists Are Murdered In Sofia

VIENNA, April 24.—The Serbian government has sent a sharp note to Bulgaria, protesting against attacks against the good faith of Jugo-Slavia, which have been made by Bulgarian politicians and newspapers, according to Belgrade advices. The Serb cabinet also decided to ask the Council of Ambassadors at Paris to permit the Little Entente military commission, with representatives of Serbia, Czechoslovakia and Rumania, to supervise the approved increase in Bulgaria's army.

GREEKS REINFORCE BULGARIAN BORDER ATHENS, April 24.—Twenty thousand Communists now are imprisoned in Bulgaria, where the situation is growing unendurable, owing to the Zankoff government's repressive measures, according to Sofia dispatches. Greece, accordingly, is reliably reported to be reinforcing the Greco-Bulgarian borders.

REACH UNDERSTANDING WITH JUGO-SLAVIA SOFIA, April 24.—Bulgaria and Jugo-Slavia are reliably reported to have reached an understanding on points over which there has been recent friction.

A break in diplomatic relations, said to have been threatened by the Serbian government as a result of statements made by Bulgarian officials implicating Jugo-Slavia in the recent uprising, is considered definitely averted for the moment.

The foreign outlook of the Zankoff government is easier, therefore, but still obscure.

ESTIMATES 250 IN SOFIA MURDERED LONDON, April 24.—"I estimate that 6000 Communists had been arrested by Monday night in Sofia alone, and that 250 of them were murdered," Josia Wedgewood, M. P., says in a signed article in the Manchester Guardian today.

Wedgewood, with two other British members of parliament, went to Sofia on an independent mission of investigation. His report condemned the Zankoff government of Bulgaria.

"The Bulgarian government is having difficulty in disposing of the bodies of the victims," Wedgewood wrote.

"Torture is supposed to be used for the purpose of extracting information from the prisoners. Men return from these prisons maimed for life, the bones of their feet all broken by the bastinado.

"Communists have been outlawed. The government police started to hunt them down with in one hour after the explosion in the cathedral at Sofia. Secret police utilized lists prepared by the (Continued on Page 12)

DIRIGIBLE REACHES U. S. AFTER ALL-NIGHT BATTLE IN GALE OVER ATLANTIC

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 24.—Six and a half hours overdue as result of an all-night battle with a 50-mile gale, the navy dirigible Los Angeles arrived here from Bermuda shortly before 5 a. m. today. Soaring to new heights at a point above Cape Hatteras in order to avoid thunderstorms, the great ship, with 58 men aboard, encountered violent head winds through which it pushed at a snail's pace. The home trip took 20 hours and 43 minutes, while on its first visit to Bermuda the dirigible returned in 14 hours and 13 minutes. "We were from 800 to sometimes as high as 2000 feet," said Capt. George W. Steele, executive officer of the Los Angeles, today. "The ship responded to control with remarkable smoothness. Part of the way on the return trip we played cards with greater ease than would be possible on a crack train. I slept four hours during the night and if the going was rough no one on board noticed it particularly." All through the night, as it battled the heavy winds, the Los Angeles was guided over the Atlantic by radio compass bearings from various stations. The radio operated perfectly, so that at no time was the ship off its course, despite poor visibility and wind resistance. The "Los Angeles" will leave next week on a 1300-mile trip to Porto Rico. The proposed voyage, which will be by far the longest since its arrival in America, will be started as soon after next Monday as possible. Already the mast ship Patoka, to which the Los Angeles was moored while at Bermuda, is en route to Mayaguez, Porto Rico, where it will await the dirigible's arrival.

Captain Is Not Disturbed By Hints Of Probe

NEW YORK, April 24.—Unperturbed by the possibilities of a British admiralty inquiry into circumstances under which the Raifuku Maru went down with all on board in sight of two ocean liners, Captain John Roberts, of the White Star liner Homeric, will start back to Southampton tomorrow. With his actions upheld by many of his passengers and men of the sea, the Homeric's commander stands firm on his original assertion that he did everything humanly possible to save the 38 Japanese sailors who drowned as the freighter sank.

NAVAL FORCE PREPARES TO ATTACK OAHU

American Battle Fleet Approaches Hawaiian Isle For Practice In Warfare

SOLDIERS TO DEFENSE

Tramping of Troops Resounds and Rumbling of Gun Caissons Is Heard

HONOLULU, April 24.—The naval "attack" on the Island of Oahu, most important of the Hawaiian group, is but a few hours' distant.

Somewhere just over the horizon the "blue" force of the U. S. navy, comprising 135 ships of various array, is spread out and approaching steadily upon the "black" defenders.

It may be 25 hours before the "battle" begins. It may be longer than that. No one here knows definitely, but the land troops are awaiting the "attack" in confidence.

Washington Starts Battle. First shot in the "attack" awaits the official start of the "battle" by the navy department in Washington. Adm. S. S. Robinson, commander of the "blue" force, will be ordered by radio to retake Oahu, which has theoretically been captured by the enemy.

Official entertainment has been stopped and all the "black" officers are making final inspection of defenses, while soldiers of the line are braving mosquito pup tents, staked out over a wide area.

The umpires, headed by Adm. Robert E. Coontz, naval high officer, will start observations as soon as Admiral Robinson guides his navy across the horizon and the big problem, expected to last five days, will be under way.

Oahu has been turned into a veritable battle ground as last-minute preparations are rushed to completion. The tramping of troops resounds over the city. Heavy gun caissons are rumbling into positions. Thousands of miles of communication wires have been strung.

Troops Await Zero Hour. Troops at Diamond Head crater, Fort Ruger, Fort De Russey, Fort Weaver and at Schofield barracks are awaiting the zero hour.

The "black" defenders today sent scouting planes and submarines over and under the sea, seeking the whereabouts of the "enemy."

Honolulu is tense with excitement. Sailors from the U. S. S. Seattle, flagship which has been here for some days, lend color to the spectacle.

Only the natives, working steadily in the cane fields, are unimpressed by the events around them.

Last night for the first time in history, a besieged commander talked personally to fellow citizens across thousands of miles of intervening ocean, when Major Gen. E. M. Lewis, Hawaiian department head, spoke over radio station KGU, the new local station.

The general expressed the war problem and explained belief that his forces will withstand the "attack." The speech was heard at various points along the California coast, according to cablegrams received here.

UNABLE TO FORM BELGIAN CABINET

BRUSSELS, April 24.—M. Vandervelde informed King Albert today of his inability to form a cabinet, owing to refusal of the Socialists to participate. The king is expected to invite a Catholic party leader to make the attempt.

Prince's Home In Arcadia Robbed

ARCADIA, Calif., April 24.—Burglars escaped with $4,000 worth of jewelry from the home here of Prince Erik of Denmark. The prince and his wife, formerly Lois Booth, motored home in time to see an automobile, presumably the grounds by another driveaway.

Appoints Henning Southland Judge

WASHINGTON, April 24.—President Coolidge today appointed Assistant Secretary of Labor E. J. Henning to be federal district judge for the southern district of California.

Home Brewers Are Safe In Washington

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Home brewers are safe in Washington unless they sell their stuff, under a decision handed down by Chief Justice McCooy, of the District of Columbia criminal court. McCooy ruled that evidence of a sale of illegal brew must be in hand before a search warrant will suffice for the arrest of a person suspected of manufacturing liquor in his home.

HURLS PERJURY CHARGE DURING WHEELER TRIAL

GREAT FALLS, Mont., April 24.—A charge that the government had introduced perjured testimony against Senator Burton K. Wheeler, was made by J. F. O'Leary, defense counsel, in argument to the jury, which is trying the Montana senator on a charge of misuse of his office.

I am surprised that the prosecutor did not display a proper loyalty to his U. S. senator, instead of trying to convict him of a ridiculous charge on testimony of a perjurer," O'Leary said.

John L. Slattery, U. S. district attorney, today demanded that the jury bring in a verdict of guilty.

"Don't be influenced because this man is a U. S. senator," he said in final argument of the prosecution's case.

"No one is above the law—even Presidents may be impeached. Have courage to do your duty in accordance with the evidence that we have shown you."

Senator Wheeler may know his fate before night. Final arguments of attorneys for the defense and prosecution were begun with the opening of court this morning.

USE PLANE, MACHINE GUN, IN RUM BATTLE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 24.—A spectacular battle between 12 rum runners and prohibition agents, in which an airplane and machine gun were used, occurred at the bay end of Union avenue, Margate City, today.

One member of the rum gang was wounded and two small boats which had been used in landing liquor were sunk during the clash. A total of 167 cases of liquor was seized. All 12 of the rum runners escaped. The victim of the machine gun was carried away by his companions.

Coast guardsmen at the inlet, six miles away, notified "dry navy" officials that two rum boats were unloading liquor at the Union avenue pier.

Jumping into an airplane, the six officers sped to the scene, watching the unloading and when it had been placed aboard motor trucks, attempted to capture the twelve men.

TO MEET IN SANTA MONICA HOUSTON, Tex., April 24.—Santa Monica, Calif., was chosen today by the United States Good Roads association and the Bankhead National Highway association as the meeting place for the 1925 joint convention.

$10,000 PAID IN WHEATLEY CIVIL ACTION

Attorney Discloses Cash Settlement Was Made In Regard To Missing Fund

WANTS NO PUBLICITY

When Confidence Is Violated By Escapade, Lawyer Reveals All Details

CHAS. B. WHEATLEY, wanted for the alleged theft of $2500 from the First National bank here Wednesday, paid over to County Treasurer J. C. Joplin $10,000, in cash, just prior to the time when the district attorney's office dropped the forgery charge against him, early last week, and against dismissing the civil action against him is in the hands of his attorney, according to a startling statement made today by Horace Head, of the firm of Head, Rutan and Scovel, who represented Joplin in the civil case.

Wheatley begged that no publicity be given his settlement with Joplin on the ground that he wanted to retrieve his lost standing in the community, and because he wanted to shield his wife, as far as possible.

"Now that Wheatley has violated this confidence with his latest escapade, in justice to both County Treasurer Joplin and to District Attorney Nelson, I think the public should know the true facts of the Wheatley case," Head said today.

Wife Helps Get Cash The money to pay Joplin was raised by Wheatley, with the assistance of his wife, according to Head, and the cases against him were not dropped because of the fact that he did pay back the money.

"The district attorney, as well as myself, were not of the opinion that Wheatley, with the assistance of his wife, was supposed to be collecting data for a war veterans' book which he had hoped to publish here.

The money was missed within two days time, and a check of the persons who had been in the office prior to that, was made, which resulted in suspicion being pointed at Wheatley according to Head.

Friends of Joplin worked quietly on the case for several months, when it was not generally known that the money had been taken. According to Head, they learned many things, that pointed the finger of suspicion to Wheatley, and he was watched closely.

Package Put In Safe They learned that he went to the office of a certain merchant in Santa Ana, and deposited a small package in his safe, then from time to time came back there, visited the safe and inspected the contents of the package, Head said.

They learned that many bills that had long past been due were suddenly paid by Wheatley, and it was not until after all these things had been learned that he was arrested and the civil suit filed, which was not dropped until after Wheatley had been tried on the forgery case, the jury disagreeing (Continued on Page 4)

British King And Queen Visit Paris

PARIS, April 24.—King George and Queen Mary today paid Paris what is known as a "visit of affection". It was the first time since 1918 that the British sovereigns have been here and their presence is regarded in official circles as a particularly happy event. Their majesties were greeted at the station on their arrival from Genoa by Lord and Lady Crewe, with whom they motored to the British embassy. President Doumergue entertained the royal visitors at luncheon at the Elysee. The British sovereigns are en route home after a stay in Sicily.

REID DIES ON GALLOWS AT SAN QUENTIN

SAN QUENTIN, April 24.—Charles B. Reid, 20-year-old Los Angeles newsboy, died on the gallows here today.

The youth paid the extreme penalty for shooting to death Charles Weingarten, Los Angeles trunk merchant, Jan. 21, 1923.

The trap was sprung promptly at 10 a. m. Twelve minutes later, prison physicians pronounced Reid dead.

The youth marched unaided from the death cell to the execution chamber. He mounted the scaffold alone, with the guards pacing behind him.

Turning, he faced the 75 witnesses crowded into the small room, and gazed calmly at them. His face did not change expression and he spoke no word as the black cap was fitted over his head. Then the trap was sprung.

"Tuffy" Reid had paid the penalty for his crime.

Reid's execution was the twenty-fourth in California during the last two years. In the previous two years, there were nine, according to prison records.

FRENCH DEPUTIES VOTE CONFIDENCE

PARIS, April 24.—The chamber of deputies today voted its confidence in Premier Painleve, 330 to 204, after a debate on the subject of the Communist ambush early this morning, in which three supporters of ex-President Miller and were killed.

The cabinet was understood to have decided upon strong measures to prevent similar trouble in connection with the municipal election campaign.

Two arrested two Communists, who had revolvers and admitted firing into recruits of the "League of Young Patriots" when the latter arrived to prevent interruption of a Nationalist political meeting.

Owners Will Run N. Y. Surface Cars

NEW YORK, April 24.—The New York City Railways, operating 75 miles of surface lines, will revert to private ownership on May 1, after being in receivership for six years. They will operate on a 5-cent fare and expect to make a profit.

LETTER THREATENING LIFE OF PRESIDENT SEIZED BY U. S. SECRET SERVICE MEN

TULSA, Okla., April 24.—An anonymous letter, threatening President Coolidge's life, written by a "broken man" of Tulsa, was made public today by U. S. secret service men.

The man's name is withheld pending arrest, according to the U. S. officials.

The letter, written in long-hand and dated Tulsa, March 25, 1925, reads as follows: "Calvin Coolidge—You may think you will get by with your d—n crookedness, but want to tell you now you will not live your term out if you don't change your tactics.

"You are silent except when it comes to robbing these masses for Wall street. If you want to do what is right, why keep that thief Mellon in? You know you can't pull wool over our eyes. Mellon's not there for any good.

"Plenty honest, capable men ready to take his place, still you keep him. A poor man now has no more chance in oil than ice in hell.

"Take warning. Change if you value your life. I mean it.

(Signed) "A broken oil man account of Mellon graft."

GOVERNOR RICHARDSON WILL HAVE 30 DAYS IN WHICH TO ACT ON PROPOSITIONS

SETTLE MAJOR ISSUES Appropriation For Survey Of Santa Ana Watershed Is Given Final Passage

SACRAMENTO, April 24.—Indications that the final day of the California legislative session might be continued until late tonight, and possibly until early tomorrow morning, were seen when the clocks in both the senate and the assembly were stopped before the hour of noon had arrived. Nearly 200 measures remained to be finally disposed of at the time the chronometers ceased to function, and amateur mathematicians figured there was at least 12 hours of work yet on hand.

With the adjournment, the members of the legislature will return to their various homes, leaving the final disposition of their work in the hands of Gov. Friend W. Richardson.

The chief executive will have 30 days in which to act on the proposals.

Sessions were held in both houses until an early hour this morning in a last minute attempt to clear the files for the final day.

Practically nothing of major interest remains unacted upon, most of the measures yet to be considered being minor appropriation bills and slight changes in the present laws.

All of the larger contested problems have been settled.

Three Weather Storms But four major issues of general importance were taken up by the legislature during this session, three of which weathered their battles and emerged victorious while the other met defeat.

Ratification of the child labor amendment to the federal constitution was one of the important issues and it was disposed of during the first week of the session.

Passage of the Breed gasoline tax increase of one cent for new highway construction work marked the final chapter of another fight, while a conditional ratification of the Colorado river six state compact was the third successful proposal.

Reapportionment of the legislative districts in the state, a thing greatly desired by the southern part of California and particularly by Los Angeles, was overwhelmingly voted down.

Pass Huge Budget The biennial budget bill totalling between $144,000,000 and $150,000,000 was passed after a battle over the question of including the highway commission. The budget contained more than $3,000,000 for this department. It is estimated that nearly sixty per cent of the total revenues of the state during the coming biennium will be expended for educational work.

Two other measures of considerable importance were also disposed of. A bill placing a two-cent tax per pound on oleomargarine has been in the hands of the governor for several weeks awaiting official endorsement.

The Swing-Johnson metropolitan water district bill went down before the onslaught of opposition in the lower house this week and only yesterday a motion to reconsider the vote by which the measure was lost was also defeated.

The passage of this bill would have permitted cities in the south to start preliminary work in preparation for the Colorado river, will make it possible for them to obtain water from it for domestic uses.

Presents For Chiefs Last night both houses held the biennial presentation and hand shaking ceremonies, at which time the legislators who had been fighting one another "teeth and toenail" all during the next session. The presidents of the chambers, Speaker Merriam of the assembly and Lieutenant Governor C. C. Young of the senate, were presented with handsome chests of silver by the members of their houses. Other officers of the legislature were awarded tokens of esteem.

Among the measures passed finally last night were:

County government bills of Santa Clara, Contra Costa, Fresno and Del Norte counties.

Bill appropriating $90,000 for the purchase of land for the San Francisco state teachers college.

Bill appropriating $29,980 for improvements at the Humboldt state teachers college.

Bill authorizing the installation of a leased water between San Francisco, El Centro, Fresno and Los Angeles by the agriculture department.

Pass S. A. River Bill Bill providing for a survey of the Santa Ana river watershed.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE S.O.S. EVANGELISTIC TEAM?

They will interest you

Evangelist Stivers believes the Book and preaches it with power. He says: "It is not what I think, or what you think that saves, but what does the Book say." "The best way to show your faith in the Word of God, is to take God at His Word." About 40 have been added to the church since the revival began.

Harry Shields will make you feel happy. He not only knows how to sing, but he gets other people to sing.

Hear these Evangelists tonight in a Great Mother's service. Everything will be done in her honor. The subject will be, "A Bible Picture of Mother." The Solo, a Mother's song. It will be a great service, don't miss it.

Sunday will be another great day, with four services for the day. Sunday school at 9:45 with invitation at the close. Morning sermon, "The World's Greatest Memorial." At three o'clock a Sacred Concert by Mr. Shields. This will be a treat for music lovers. At Seven, a rousing song service, after which Mr. Stivers will speak on the subject, "Why Are There So Many Churches in the World?" This sermon will be illustrated by a large chart.

The meeting will continue another week, and on Friday night, May 1st, there will be a great service in honor of Father. Subject, "A Man's Work, In a Man's Way."

Hear these Evangelists, they have a message in song and sermon. You will enjoy them. Go and take a friend. A glad hand awaits you.

Auxiliary Members To Be Honored

Legion Auxiliary members are anticipating a glorious time on the night of April 30 when the Legion post will entertain in their honor. Those who were not at the last auxiliary meeting to receive Commander Wilbur Getty's personal invitation to the party are asked by their president to mark the date and remember it for if the Legion is hospitable enough to entertain especially the least the auxiliary can do is to accept one hundred percent. The affair is scheduled as a carnival and masquerade, minus the masks, meaning that everyone can dress in anything that should suit his or her fancy just so it isn't "civies."

The auxiliary card party which had been planned for April 17 and was postponed, was dated for the night of May 12, at which time everyone in the community fond of bridge or "500" is invited to participate in the usual auxiliary fun at the usual price. Tickets may be purchased from members.

Commander Getty has also asked the support of the auxiliary in the "Lost Battalion" moving picture enterprise which the Legion is to bring to Santa Ana on the nights of April 25, 26, 27 and 28, when the thrilling story of an American battalion in France which became lost during the World War, will be depicted on the cinema screen. On the last night of the picture Mrs. George S. Richardson, an auxiliary member, Mr. Richardson, and Lyle Anderson, will present a one-act play in addition as well as on the following night, April 28. Of course auxiliary members will want to see the picture on the night of the play.

The Legion is getting ready for another play, to be given at the Walker theater on June 1, 2 and 3, and auxiliary members who desire to try out are asked to be at the Legion hall the night of May 1, and if possible to communicate with G. S. Richardson immediately. Sunday, May 3, is another date for the auxiliary members to remember, for at that time they and their families as well as every Legionnaire and auxiliary member in the county is invited to be the guests of the Legion posts of the county at a big barbecue at Orange county park.

At the last auxiliary meeting Mrs. Gertrude Whitney, one of the so-called pillars of the auxiliary, announced the intention of herself and Mr. Whitney to make their home in San Bernardino on account of business reasons. The announcement nearly demoralized the meeting.

The auxiliary is still "carrying on" with the Legion Luncheon club "eats" on Mondays, and in addition has served several banquets recently to outside organizations, thereby swelling the welfare fund considerably.

Entertainment was in order at the last meeting and Miss Louise Tubbs, chairman of the entertainment, was very fortunate to secure Master Freddy James, a youngster of five years, who can sing and whistle most charmingly, and Miss Armine Crawford, a daughter of one of the auxiliary members, who reads most cleverly. Both were heartily appreciated. The next meeting will be held on May 7.

University Study

Continuing his lecture course before the Ebells' University study section, E. M. Nealley gave a complete outline for his final lecture to be given June 24. The subject, "Moral Order and Its Relation to the Individual," was tersely explained and an insight that would stimulate interest, given.

Under the heading of "Thought Streams of Today," Mr. Nealley said:

"The conspicuous facts about the present situation are multiplicity, complexity, bigness. The old restraints, traditions and conventions are crumbling; the old philosophies are disappearing and have not been replaced by any constructive new philosophy commensurate and adequate for the needs of the new situation."

"The first need of man is not limitation, but expansion; not repression, but encouragement. Life has been conceived in three ways: first as a beatitude, second as a curse, third as a challenge. Mencken, one of the greatest writers of today, says, first the cosmos is a gigantic flywheel making 10,000 revolutions a minute, second man is a sick fly taking a dizzy ride on it, third religion is the theory that the wheel was designed to set spinning to give him the ride."

Mr. Nealley emphasized the great value of discipline in the making of character and its part in good citizenship and the fact that beauty and goodness played a large part in the ethical theory. He continued, "In the 'Three Questions of the Soul,' first, the self is isolated; it is alone and it seeks otherness; second, the self is restless—it seeks quiet, peace, harmony, adjustment, certitude; third, the self is little—it seeks expansion into cosmic bigness—it seeks adventure and life at full tide—it seeks to transcend the limitations of time, space, matter."

Proof of the general interest and enthusiastic appreciation of the study class in Mr. Nealley's address was voiced in a unanimous vote to have an extra session for study and include another lecture in June meetings.

Miss Minnie C. Childs will give the summary for the year.

For three generations it has been proving to the women of this country that there is nothing so dependable to overcome the aches and pains which women alone have to bear.—Adv.

Trojans Meet For "Peppy" Dinner

The April meeting of the Orange County Trojan club took the form of a dinner held Wednesday night at McFarland's cafe in Fullerton, where tables and walls bore garlands and banners in Southern California's colors of cardinal and gold. Gay crepe paper caps in the same vivid tones were favors at each place and when donned by the enthusiastic guests, heightened the brilliancy of the effect.

College songs preceded the dinner which was a four-course affair featuring deliciously prepared chicken. The program which followed offered a number from each town represented. Coach Jones, the new football coach at the university, was honor guest and his after-dinner speech offered an interesting resume of past experiences and future hopes of U. S. C. athletics.

Mr. Jones is a Yale man who has coached at Syracuse, Iowa and his own university, Yale. He was declared by all who came in contact with him at the dinner, to have a most charming personality which, coupled with his ability, promises to make him a general favorite among the Trojans.

Other guests from the U. included Julian Earl and Frank Hadlock who were accorded pleasant honors. More college songs and informal talks were featured ere the lively group disbanded to meet in this city the last week of May.

Ebell Club

Matinees for Children

Among interesting events scheduled for the future by sections and committees of the Ebell society, none is of greater interest than the series of Saturday matinees at the auditorium, planned by the ways and means committee of which Mrs. William L. Deimling is chairman.

Mrs. Deimling's plan is two-fold in its benefits for it will offer a happy afternoon to children of the city with a consequent sense of security on the part of their mothers, and a financial advantage to the Day Nursery, that project so dear to the heart of Ebeldom.

Saturday, May 2, will institute the series of weekly events and Estelle Card Beeman (Mrs. L. L. Beeman) and Miss Carolyn Haughton have assumed responsibility of providing a program by children for children. The idea offers quite as fascinating vistas to adults, however, as it does to children, and it is safe to assume that the weekly programs will attract quite as sympathetic and enthusiastic a following among the people of the grown-up world as among the inhabitants of the Kingdom of Childhood.

Card Benefit

The date of Thursday, May 28, has been reserved by the ways and means committee for a benefit card party which will fill the afternoon hours at the clubhouse and promises to surpass in size and brilliancy any other card party of the season.

The committee is working on elaborate plans for the affair and will soon be ready to tell more particulars. At present the date and the hour for beginning play (the customary 2 o'clock) are the main details available, but all members and friends are asked to reserve the date.

Ebell Travelers

The recent meeting of Ebells' second Travel section was held at the home of Dr. Estelle Workman, 1905 Valencia street, where a variety of roses including many dainty Cecil Bruners, offered attractive decorations. Associated with Dr. Workman as hostess were Mrs. C. F. Crose and Miss Mary Taylor and the trio served a most enjoyable luncheon.

Following the brief business session, Mrs. W. D. Baker entertained the members with a spirited account of her recent trip to Mexico when she spent six weeks at their ranch there. They went as far south as Mazatlan and her adventures were thoroughly enjoyed by the section. Equally interesting were the handsome rugs, baskets and examples of native pottery

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT
One calamity after another has assailed you and you have struggled on, broken perhaps but with unbroken faith and purpose. Now the very reason for living has left you alone; "there is no God." Ah! but your faith is not so vibrant with life, she could not cease to be. She is somewhere and where she is you want at length to be.

Out of the shadows comes an echo and you prepare a place for you. Where I am there shall ye be also.

HALE—At her home in Garden Grove, April 24th, 1925, Mrs. Sarah C. Hale, aged 75 years. Funeral services will be held Monday, April 27th, at 10 a. m. from the Baptist church at Garden Grove, Smith and Tenth in charge. Interment Fairhaven cemetery.

BEAGLE—At the family home, 1701 East Third street, Santa Ana, California, James P. Beagle, aged 74 years. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Winbiger's Mission Funeral home, Rev. Paterson of Long Beach officiating. Interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

Deceased leaves besides his wife, a daughter and son, Mrs. Beulah Pennis and Mac W. Beagle of Long Beach, California. Mr. Beagle was formerly a resident of Santa Ana, and was a brother-in-law of Mr. Frank Thomas of 814 South Main street, Santa Ana.

FUNERAL NOTICE
GROUT—Services for Mrs. Perry GROUT will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the Methodist church, South Orange avenue, Orange.

L. L. WHITSON, Master.

Wholly for the country
During many years the present writer, feeling somewhat like those some Leonidas holding the pass at Thermopylae, has protested to the uttermost point of his pen against the growing negligence in men's dress among Americans, who know best and among others who ought to know better. The jumbling of town clothes with country clothes from which we are just emerging threatened to despoil the Fine Art of Dress of much that is fine and all that is art. To paraphrase Kipling, "Oh! sport is sport, and street is street, and never the twain shall meet." The foundation of smart appearance is wearing the right style in the right place, from go-go-ing to go-to-business, from backwoods to ballroom. Foreigners are sticklers for such nice distinctions, and it is this, not the clothes they wear or how they wear them, that has given Europeans a reputation, otherwise undeserved, for being better turned out than we are.

A calculated careless mode of dress is admirable in the country, where the surroundings harmonize. It is quite unsuitable in town, where a man is engrossed in pursuits which have no kinship with sport and leisure. A pleated golf jacket in the office or—horror!—knicker breathe the suspicion that either one has nothing else to wear or that one doesn't know what to wear and when to wear it. Similarly, a stiff and formal style of dress on the links or at the nets warrants the presumption that a man has no country clothes or no sense of fitness and, therefore, is a person of great ignorance or small importance.

Take the light-weight felt hat with the turned-down brim, as sketched here. This was introduced wholly for the country to take the place of the cap which had become a bit too common. It is, in no stretch of the imagination, a proper style to wear in town. Sundered from its seemingly surroundings, cool stretches and open spaces, it looks "out of the picture", no matter how becoming to the individual face it might be.

Moreover, the reverse-brim hat is made particularly to be worn that way. It is composed of an extra light, flexible body specially blocked or formed to lend itself to being slammed down instantly and permanently. Try this with the ordinary felt hat and it looks stiff and misshapen, because it is not meant to be thus worn. Have both a light-weight felt and a heavier one. Don't attempt to make one hat do double duty.

LEGIONNAIRES
NAME SCHANEIL
POST ADJUTANT

Elmer A. Schaneil, 617 Lime street, contractor and builder, and a prominent member of Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, was, last night elected post adjutant, to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of Clyde C. Whitney, adjutant for the last five years, who leaves Santa Ana shortly to make his home in San Bernardino.

Schaneil's election was made by the post's executive committee, in session just prior to the regular meeting of the post, and the decision was announced at the session.

Schaneil has been active in post affairs for several years and for two years was a member of the executive committee. He is one of the most popular of the younger members, and is said to be entirely in accord with the views of the present administration.

Make Farewell Gift
In bidding farewell to Clyde Whitney, a white gold watch, with a knife and chain, were presented to him by the post, in appreciation for the excellent work he has done as adjutant during his long term in office. Whitney was the first adjutant of the post.

More than 100 members of the post gathered at last night's meeting for "rube night." All were dressed as backwoods farmers, high boots and straw hats dominating. Many were adorned with bushy mustaches and whiskers.

Start Membership Drive
A membership drive, to be staged by every member of the post, was launched last night. The membership of 500 was divided into 10 teams, and a captain named for each team. The drive begins today and extends until May 30, at which time at least 100 new members are expected to be brought into the post.

Captains of the various teams are William Iverson, Bert West, G. T. Scovel, G. McKeller, M. B. Wellington, Robert Collins, Carl Edgar, Charles Swanner, Charles Van Wyk and Ernest Winbiger.

Entertainment last night consisted of numbers by the University of Southern California quartet, and by the first aid squad of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, which demonstrated skill in the art of rendering emergency treatment.

Following the regular business meeting, sandwiches and cold drinks were served.

Announcement was made by Post Commander Wilbur Getty last night that the first rehearsal for the American Legion show, "The Full House," to be shown at a local theater in June, would be held at the Legion hall on the night of May 1. Members of the auxiliary and the Legion were invited to attend the first rehearsal, at which time members will try for places in the cast.

Rankin's Fourth and Sycamore

Baby Week

April 27 to May 2

"Where did you come from, Baby Dear? Out of the Everywhere into the Here."

AND that the Here may do all it can for the welfare of the small beings who have just slipped down from their heavenly hiding places, Rankin's observes Baby Week. Our share in this great scheme to do some things during next week which will seem to mothers worth noting and taking part in. There will be a nurse from the County Health Department, as told below—there will be three splendid booklets to give away—and a registering service spoken of below. And there will be Baby Week attractions in new apparel which no young mother or expectant mother should miss. See us beginning Monday—in our Baby Shop—Third Floor.

County Nurse on Duty These Booklets Are Free

THE County Health Department has been informed of our plans for Baby Week and honored us by assigning a special nurse to the Baby Shop from 2 to 5 P. M. each day beginning next Monday. She will be here entirely for your consultation—have no hesitancy in using her time as much as you like.

Register Your Baby

MOTHERS who will register their babies at our Baby Shop will be given a Diet Card which has been agreed upon by national authorities during years of conferences, and improved from time to time. The registry is for the purpose of determining the lines along which we may build a really efficient infants' service department.

Complete Vanta Line

IT is quite proper that we should include in Baby Week special emphasis upon the Vanta line of baby garments. Surely there is none other more entitled to this notice. The makers of Vanta garments have probably done more for the comfort and welfare of today's babies than any other agency. We are glad to have ALL of their products—they are a credit to the store.

HERE are three booklets published by the American Child Health Association, of which Herbert Hoover is president. One is for the expectant mother, the second pertains to care of babies from birth to 2 years, the third from 2 to 6 years. These booklets are free to all who will call at our Baby Shop, Third Floor, next week and ask for them.

PRESENTS PICTURE FOR Y. M. BUILDING

Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. announced today that the local association possesses a beautiful new painting, which has been hung in the main lobby as a permanent decoration, through the generosity of W. A. Griffith, a nationally-known artist, residing at Laguna Beach.

The canvas is one of Griffith's characteristic impressions of mountain and desert country, entitled "Shepherd Mountain." Its coloring is remarkably attractive, reflecting in a most pleasing way the subdued brilliance of the Southern California landscape.

This painting has been given a place of honor in the Y. M. C. A. lobby, and is to be designated by an appropriate inscription, commemorating the gift, Secretary Smedley said.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

WHOLLY FOR THE COUNTRY
During many years the present writer, feeling somewhat like those some Leonidas holding the pass at Thermopylae, has protested to the uttermost point of his pen against the growing negligence in men's dress among Americans, who know best and among others who ought to know better. The jumbling of town clothes with country clothes from which we are just emerging threatened to despoil the Fine Art of Dress of much that is fine and all that is art. To paraphrase Kipling, "Oh! sport is sport, and street is street, and never the twain shall meet." The foundation of smart appearance is wearing the right style in the right place, from go-go-ing to go-to-business, from backwoods to ballroom. Foreigners are sticklers for such nice distinctions, and it is this, not the clothes they wear or how they wear them, that has given Europeans a reputation, otherwise undeserved, for being better turned out than we are.

A calculated careless mode of dress is admirable in the country, where the surroundings harmonize. It is quite unsuitable in town, where a man is engrossed in pursuits which have no kinship with sport and leisure. A pleated golf jacket in the office or—horror!—knicker breathe the suspicion that either one has nothing else to wear or that one doesn't know what to wear and when to wear it. Similarly, a stiff and formal style of dress on the links or at the nets warrants the presumption that a man has no country clothes or no sense of fitness and, therefore, is a person of great ignorance or small importance.

Take the light-weight felt hat with the turned-down brim, as sketched here. This was introduced wholly for the country to take the place of the cap which had become a bit too common. It is, in no stretch of the imagination, a proper style to wear in town. Sundered from its seemingly surroundings, cool stretches and open spaces, it looks "out of the picture", no matter how becoming to the individual face it might be.

Moreover, the reverse-brim hat is made particularly to be worn that way. It is composed of an extra light, flexible body specially blocked or formed to lend itself to being slammed down instantly and permanently. Try this with the ordinary felt hat and it looks stiff and misshapen, because it is not meant to be thus worn. Have both a light-weight felt and a heavier one. Don't attempt to make one hat do double duty.

LOCAL STORES AND SANTA ANA GET PUBLICITY

Publication in the Register recently of an extract from an article in the Boot and Shoe Recorder, of Boston, concerning the Peterson Shoe store, of this city, has brought to light the fact that Santa Ana and local merchants have during the past months been securing a large amount of valuable publicity in eastern business publications through the work of Frank H. Williams, of this city, who is western editor for a large group of leading trade papers.

Among other local establishments which have been made the subjects for interesting articles concerning their successful ways of doing business and the publications in which these articles have appeared, are the following:

Santa Ana laundry, National Laundry Journal of New York City. George Dunton, Fordowner, of Milwaukee, Wis.

S. Hill & Son, Hardware Age, New York City.

Wingwood Drug store, Pacific Drug Review, Portland, Ore.

Hill & Carden, Clothier and Furrier, New York City.

Lindsey's Boys' store, Men's Wear, Chicago.

Mateer Drug store, Retail Leder, Philadelphia.

Spencer Collins, National Clothier, Chicago.

K-B Drug store, Bulletin of Pharmacy, Detroit, Mich.

Santa Ana Independent Filling station, The Filling Station, Houston, Tex.

Randall Radio shop, Electrical Record, New York City.

Shaffer Music store, Radio Merchandise, New York City.

Platt Auto Service, Automotive Merchandise, New York City.

Jess Goodman, Tires, New York City.

Mitchell Paint store, American Paint Dealer, St. Louis.

Santa Ana letter writing campaign, The General Merchant, Chicago.

Horton Furniture store, Grand Rapids Furniture Record, Grand Rapids, Mich.

First Presbyterian church, The Continent, Chicago.

Herzig, Honer and Parney, Contractors, Building Age, New York City.

The Radio Den, The Radio Dealer, New York City.

Rankin's, Women's Wear, New York City.

A. G. Flagg, Printing, New York City.

Williams covers Southern California from Santa Barbara to San Diego and picked Santa Ana as his residence because of the fact that it is strategically located for reaching all Southern California points with ease.

It is interesting to know that,

Neighbors' Name State Delegates

Delegates to the district convention at San Diego May 22 to 23 were named at the session of the Santa Ana Neighbors of Woodcraft in the M. V. A. hall yesterday.

Those selected are Minnella Patmor, Susie Skaggs, Metta McBride and Emma Jemison, with Nell May Moore, Ethel Hedrick, Marsha McElree and Aileen O'Mallia as alternates.

After the meeting, the members assembled in the dining room for a repast of oysters, served by Susie Skaggs, Emma Jemison and Stella McCune.

on a verdict.

"The evidence against Wheatley was purely circumstantial, and I agree with the district attorney that it was not sufficient to convict," said Head. "That is the reason, after due consideration of every angle of the case, that I signed an order of dismissal of the civil case and placed it in the hands of Wheatley's lawyer. He can file it whenever he chooses."

With a dragnet out that encircles Santa Ana and surrounding towns, members of the sheriff's office were today still endeavoring to find some clue that will lead to Wheatley's arrest. His disappearance has baffled the officers, thus far, according to Sheriff Sam Jernigan, but a relentless search is being made. Rumors that he may have gone to a rum fleet, reported off the coast, are being investigated, while Sheriff Jernigan has several men stationed on the border near Tia Juana.

Announce Program For Elks Meeting

Balloting on applications for membership, initiation of candidates, an entertainment and a "feed" are scheduled for Tuesday night's meeting of Santa Ana lodge of Elks, it was announced today by E. R. Majors, secretary. Earl Abbey, entertainment chairman of the lodge, has arranged for numbers by the new lodge orchestra and quartet, and vocal solos by Ed Newman, Robert Payne, Jr. and "Andy" Anderson.

The meeting will commence promptly at 8 o'clock. Visiting members of the antlered herd are especially urged to be present.

The newly installed officers will preside for the first time Tuesday evening.

until the past few years, the eastern trade papers paid but little attention to Southern California, but with the great advance of business in this section in recent years the papers which seek to cover the whole country find that business in this section is even more progressive than in the east.

It should be understood that the articles appearing about local merchants and Santa Ana have cost the merchants and the city nothing. They are in no sense paid advertisements, as none of the papers represented by Williams ever allows paid write-ups to get into the editorial pages. Nor is advertising solicited from the local firms because the papers get their advertising patronage from the manufacturers who sell goods to the dealers who are subscribers to the papers, and as there is no manufacturing in this city in the lines represented by these papers, there is no advertising for the papers to be secured here. Williams represents the papers in this locality strictly as western editor.

National Circulation. All of the papers in which articles about local institutions have appeared are nationally circulated—that is, they go into all parts of the country and are read by the best business men.

Articles by Williams have appeared in Systems, Industrial Management, Saturday Evening Post, American Magazine and appear regularly in 30 to 40 business papers each month.

Before coming to Santa Ana, Williams was advertising manager of the World Film corporation, in New York City, which was one of the leading film producers and distributors of a few years ago, and was editor of a prominent eastern business paper.

Williams is also editor and publisher of the Service Field, the Service Paper for Service Papers, which goes to all leading American trade papers, and which deals with trade paper publishing and editing. This paper, which is printed and circulated from Santa Ana, is unique in that it has a particularly high subscription price and carries no advertising.

SET BOULDER TRIAL. Trial of William Bouldin, Placencia deputy constable, who is charged with a statutory offense, was today set for June 17 in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court, when he pleaded not guilty to the charge.

WOULD QUIET TITLE. R. E. Miles, of Santa Ana, today had filed an action in superior court against the city, to quiet title to a strip of ground, formerly a portion of Camille street. The strip was abandoned for street purposes by the city in 1921. Miles claims, Attorneys Harvey and Harvey represent him.

RAMONA PAGEANT OPENS TOMORROW

HEMET, April 24.—With all indications pointing to a record-breaking attendance, the opening performance of the third annual Ramona Pageant will be given here at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The pageant will be repeated Sunday and Saturday and Sunday, May 2 and 3.

The cast of 150 experienced players, under the direction of Garnet Holme, has been in rehearsal for three weeks. The Ramona Bowl, the natural amphitheater in which the production is given, has been greatly improved for this year's production. A new automobile road leads directly into the theater. Rains this week have brought hundreds of thousands of wild flowers on the banks of the theater into full bloom.

Word was received today that the Sherman Indian school at Arlington will attend the pageant in a body, half of the students coming the first Saturday and half the second. Many high schools of Southern California are sending parties of from 25 to 50 pupils, being attracted to the pageant because of its authentic historical background.

Hemet and San Jacinto are in gala attire for the pageant and will entertain the largest crowds in their history.

Dorise Schukow, who will be remembered as the Ramona of the first year of the pageant, has the title role again this year. Earl Schenck, noted New York and Los Angeles actor, plays Alessandro.

Los Angeles Man To Be Speaker at Teachers' Meeting

Teachers' institute will meet for the fourth series of lectures next Tuesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, in the auditorium of the high school. J. Harold Williams, of Los Angeles, will be the speaker. Subject of the address is "Educational Tests and Measurements." Williams has been associated with research work in the schools of Los Angeles and is a member of the advisory committee of the Southern California Educational Research association. Teachers of all the city schools of Santa Ana are to attend the meeting. J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, will preside.

Series of Surprises Mark Celebration Of Birthday

Such varied entertainment was offered in the celebration yesterday of the birthday of Miss Adelaide Spencer, that the members of the sub-deb set and their friends among the youths of the city, were still breathless today from the succession of the delightful features planned by Mrs. Harry Spencer, mother of the birthday honoree.

The first event was the smart little dinner which was planned for the evening with the members of a friendly club to which Miss Spencer belongs, as guests. Mrs. Spencer used exquisite Cecil Bruner buds to center the table where all appointments were carried out in soft pink tints. An elaborate course dinner was served, Mrs. Ben E. Taylor and Mrs. Elmer Bowers aiding Mrs. Spencer in serving and in other pleasant hostess duties.

The final course offered a beautiful pink and white cake bearing seventeen rosy candles, one for each year which the young honoree was celebrating. The delectable cake had been baked and decorated by Mrs. Bowers as her gift to Miss Adelaide.

Shortly after the final course had been enjoyed came a surprise feature indeed when nine young men friends of the group made their appearance and it was announced that arrangements had been made by Mrs. Spencer for a large party at the Post theater. The feature film and vaudeville offered an enjoyable interval followed by a return to the Spencer home on North Broadway where everything was found to be in readiness for dancing which diversion crowned a happy evening.

At a late hour Mrs. Spencer and her co-hostesses served hot chocolate and strawberry shortcake with whipped cream.

Lovely gifts received by Miss Spencer included a handsome beaded bag from her grandmother, Mrs. Susan Mullinix, which was all the more valuable because it was all her own work. A large sheaf of American Beauty roses which arrived for the honoree in the afternoon hours, bore only a question mark on the accompanying card. Its donor remained a mystery until the arrival of the young men in the evening when they admitted that they had sent the beautiful flowers but dared not include their names as the theater and dance plans might have been revealed.

At the dinner, covers were laid for the Misses Ethel Karp, Rebecca Budrow, Annie Farver, Rowena Moore, Margaret Peterson, Helen Bowers, Dorothy Holmes, Emily Holmes and the honoree, Adelaide Spencer. Joining them for the happy evening events were Messrs. Elwood Kirkpatrick, Edwin Cox, Harold Viera, Herbert Meissinger, Jack Hickman, Arrol Norton, Jim Hickman, Don Hallman and "Bud" Hoyle.

W. C. T. U.

April 30 and May 1 have been designated as the days of the big state W. C. T. U. rally in Santa Ana when workers from all sections of California will meet here. The First M. E. church will open its doors for the event and to add to the interest will be the presence of four state officers.

Preceding the state rally will be a meeting of the Orange county executive board in Fullerton. This will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. Tuesday, April 28 and will be held at the First Christian church in Fullerton.

Club Organizes For Friendly Sessions Of Bridge

So recently organized that it has not yet been named, a little bridge club formed of a group of eight congenial young matrons, had its second meeting yesterday when Mrs. Nat Neff entertained at her home, 422 West Santa Clara avenue.

Mrs. Neff followed the custom decided upon by the members when she presided at a charmingly appointed luncheon table around which her guests were seated for the enjoyment of a very delicious menu. Garden flowers in brilliant array were used in decoration.

Following the luncheon, bridge was introduced and a friendly contest enjoyed. The club plans for just two tables and will meet once each month for luncheon with each member in turn. Also each month will bring a merry little evening party when the members will be joined by their husbands for dancing. The club was organized a few weeks ago when a group of friends met informally at the home of the Stanley Clems on North Baker street.

Its members are yesterday's hostesses, Mrs. Neff, Mrs. Stanley Clem, Mrs. M. L. Pindell, Mrs. Melvin Trickey, Mrs. Harvey Traveller, Mrs. F. H. Long, Mrs. Ray Lambert and Mrs. R. C. Burkett.

Birthday Luncheon In New Home Intolerable Situation On

The seventy-ninth birthday of Judge W. D. Harlan, formerly of Washington, D. C., was recognized yesterday by Mrs. Harlan who planned a pleasant little family luncheon at their recently purchased home, 718 Eastwood avenue, honoring her husband and her sister, Mrs. Grace Wilde.

The latter plans to depart tomorrow for Arizona for an extended stay so the little gathering was in the nature of a farewell. In the afternoon many friends dropped in for a friendly chat and to enjoy the radio program. These included several Santa Barbara friends and also Mrs. Wilde's daughter, Mrs. William Harding.

Farewell Party For Departing Family

Mrs. Alta Cook and her two sons, Lyle and Phillip who are leaving this week to establish their new home in Los Angeles, were complimented by Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Harlow at a pleasantly arranged surprise party Wednesday evening at the Harlow home, 815 South Garvey street.

A family dinner had been planned by Mrs. Harlow and Mrs. Cook and her sons were honored guests. They remained to enjoy the friendly evening little dreaming that a group of friends were to join them later. The arrival of the additional guests sprung the surprise and a happy evening of conversation and games followed.

Mrs. Harlow used roses and sweet peas in the adornment of her attractive home. At an advanced hour of the evening she served ice cream and cake to the guests who included Messrs. and Mesdames E. M. Harlow, Orman Harlow and sons Douglas and Roger of Fullerton; W. J. Gerry, Leonard Masters and daughter Marjory and Robert M. Hockaday. Mrs. Lydia Ema and children, Jean and Chris Ema, the Misses Ramona and Emma Harlow, Wilbert Harlow and the honorees, Mrs. Cook and her sons.

Wee Maiden Shares Birthday Joys With Many

Small Guinivere Vivian Hobbs who on last Monday, reached her second birthday, was fairly hostess to her friends at a party planned by her mother, Mrs. Laura Vivian Hobbs at the home of the lassie's grandmother, Mrs. Emma Hobbs.

Each arriving playmate bore a gift for small Guinivere who greeted her guests with the sunniest of smiles, and keenly enjoyed opening the pretty packages. After a happy hour the little folk were seated around a table where they feasted on ice cream, candies and a beautiful big birthday cake with Guinivere's name and two brightly glowing pink candles on its surface.

The refreshment hour was followed by another play interval after which the children were grouped on the lawn for some snapshots taken by Miss Lexie Vivian of Los Angeles, an aunt of the tiny birthday maid.

Those present to enjoy the occasion were, Mrs. Jess Bean and son Bobbie, Mrs. Olive Valentine and daughter Ruth, Mrs. Mary Hobbs and daughter Betty La Rue, Mrs. Hazel Hobbs and son Billy, Mrs. Glen Turner and baby Phoebe Jean, Mrs. Hazel Vigor and baby Marjorie, Mrs. Irene Gee and baby Dorla, Wynne, Arthur Waldo, Fred and Charles Nichols, Harold Curry, Eva Oswald Dorothy Bose, Mrs. Emma Hobbs, the great grandmother, Miss Lexie Vivian, Mrs. Veda Fortner McCoy, Mrs. Clarence Hobbs and the little hostess, Guinivere Vivian Hobbs.

Aid Society

Entertained yesterday in the attractive home of Mrs. W. S. McVay, 300 West First street, south-west section members of the First Presbyterian Aid society spent a friendly afternoon in needlework after business details were concluded.

Mrs. McFadden presided in place of the leader, Mrs. H. McVicker Smith who is still in the east, and conducted an interesting business session during which decision was reached to make aprons and comforts to order. Mrs. Morrison spoke of the Federated Aid society meeting in Hollywood April 30, at the new First Presbyterian church there, and asked for a good attendance of local members.

Following the business hour, the members, forty in number, devoted their time to chat and needlework, enlivened by program features including two delightful songs by Mrs. J. B. Bichan who played her own accompaniments. Miss Arlene Crawford gave interesting readings, choosing "Going to the Movies" and "The Gingham Dog and Calico Cat." At the tea hour, Mrs. McVay and her hostess committee, served appetizing refreshments.

Quiet Wedding of Recent Date In Garden Grove

Congratulations are being showered on young Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wendell Williams whose marriage last Saturday night was solemnized by the Rev. C. P. Morris of the Garden Grove Baptist church at his parsonage home.

Mr. Williams and his bride who was Miss Emma L. Mahan, Garden Grove, accompanied by her parents and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mahan, Mrs. A. L. Fuller of this city, Mrs. Quincy Page of Corcoran and Miss Nina Mahan of the home, went to the parsonage home of the Rev. Mr. Morris where the sacred rites were observed.

The bride was charming in a girlish frock of changeable taffeta with which she wore a white hat and carried a cluster of pink roses tied with changeable taffeta ribbon. After the impressive ceremony the wedding party returned to the Mahan home at Garden Grove for a dainty supper ere the young pair left for parts unknown to enjoy their honeymoon.

Mr. Williams is employed with the Santa Ana transfer and will bring his bride to this city where they will establish their home.

Splendid Results of Garden Bazaar

When the third Thursday in May was announced today as the date for the next meeting of the Garden section of Ebell, it was accompanied with the statement that the recent flower show and garden bazaar staged at Ebell club by the section, had yielded the sum of $130 for the section treasury, after all expenses were paid.

This will be gratifying to other club members and friends who saw in the bazaar, a unique innovation which will undoubtedly become a semi-annual feature of club life. Delighted patrons were those who found flowers they had never seen before. Equally delighted were those who greeted again the dearly loved poses of their childhood or of days "back home."

Probably were volumes written in admiring appreciation of the artistic arrangement of the display, none could carry more weight than the simple fact that Miss Florence Yoch, prominent landscape artist of Southern California, took careful note of the arrangement in preparation for decorating the famous Women's Athletic club of Los Angeles to open Saturday, May 2, with a big dinner.

It was declared that the display compared most favorably with the Pasadena Flower show and was one of the best amateur exhibits ever staged in the state. Members of the Ebell club generally and of the Garden section particularly were loud in their appreciation of the section leader, Mrs. J. E. Paul whose love for flowers coupled with a splendid executive ability, made the idea possible when she first launched it at last fall's flower show.

Woman's Bible Class

Last Sunday's attendance of 170 members, is expected to be surpassed next Sunday morning at the meeting of the Woman's Bible class of the First Christian church in the community house at 9:30 o'clock. A most pleasing program will offer readings by talented little Miss Carrie Kimball, Mrs. F. M. Gist, veteran teacher of the class, will with her usual lucidity and eloquence, present the lesson on "Stephen, the First Martyr."

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, special honors will be accorded Mrs. Gist and her class by Mr. Shields, the singing evangelist now at the church. He has announced a sacred concert at vespers just in honor of the class and its beloved teacher.

MUSICAL PLAY AT AUDITORIUM THIS EVENING

Girls make good marines. A chorus of "sea salted" girls will take part in the Spanish operetta, "The Belle of Barcelona," which is to be presented at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school auditorium tonight at 8:15. The marine chorus is made up entirely of pretty co-eds.

The marine troupe is considered one of the features that adds to the attractiveness of the 3-act musical comedy. Several other choruses take part in the play, bringing the cast up to 60, all students.

For two months the operetta has been rehearsed in preparation for the single offering to be given tonight. The entertainment is an annual undertaking of the music department of the high school. Miss Louise Mansfield, head of the music department, has been directing the acting.

The performance this year, according to the music department, will be one of the best ever offered at the school. Bull fights, love scenes and dancing skits are included on the program.

A large audience of townspeople and students is expected at the operetta. Tickets have been on sale this week at the Santa Ana book store. Remaining seats can be purchased at the box office before the entertainment, it is announced.

Miss Lorene Matney and Louis Napier have the leading roles. The part of the villainous Spanish nobleman is taken by Renel Yount. Much humor is added to the situations by William Sequin, as an Irish character.

In the seventeenth century leather coins were used in parts of northern Europe.

PLAY MARINES IN "THE BELLE OF BARCELONA"

SAYS NELSON'S LETTER AIDED WHITTED PLEA

Taking the view that District Attorney A. P. Nelson not only failed to protest against the parole of Dr. R. E. Whitted, former Santa Ana who was paroled from San Quentin in January, but had written a letter that aided in securing parole, B. E. Dawson, Santa Ana cafe owner, today addressed a letter to The Register, attaching to it what Dawson says is a copy of a certified copy of the letter written by the district attorney in connection with the Whitted case.

Dawson's letter follows:

Dawson's letter follows:
Editor Register:
On January 7, you published as news concerning the Whitted parole and sentence by the prison board: "There were no recommendations for leniency in the Whitted case from the prosecuting attorney; it was emphatically proclaimed," and further: "The short sentence caused 'amazement' to the district attorney."

Doubt was expressed by officials of the legality of the parole. "Whitted had not served a minimum period," evidently the "officials" (I assume them to have been the district attorney) were not familiar with P. C. 17, defining a felony, 28a, designating the crime and fixing a maximum but not a minimum penalty and 18a fixing a minimum at six months which applied in the Whitted matter—the action of the prison board thus being wholly legal.

On the 6th you had published "no recommendations for such course were received from the district attorney."

In this connection the following, among many other letters on file with the prison board, is of interest, and indicated, together with other things, what may have led, or misled, the prison board to act as it did.

If all the facts and letters of recommendation placed before the board were available, it MIGHT be that some of the violent criticisms directed against President Van Smith and the prison board, would be diverted and inquiry made as to who was responsible for misleading them.

In any event if District Attorney Nelson had remembered the following letter, perhaps his "amazement" would not have been so great, nor his denunciation of the prison board so vehement, for having done what he had just assured them would be to him "entirely satisfactory."

The letter follows. The public is invited to give it careful reading. Note the date:
B. E. DAWSON.

Illinois Man Says That He Found Black-Draught to Be A "Good Active Medicine."

Edwardsville, Ill. — Mr. Walter W. Macdonald, of 711 Fairview Avenue, this city, says that he has taken Black-Draught, when needed, for a period of ten years or longer.

"I used to suffer," he says, "with indigestion, a tight feeling in my chest after meals—felt sluggish, lazy and dull and out of sorts. I would be very constipated."

"Some one recommended Black-Draught. I began using it. I found it so very satisfactory I have used it ever since. I wouldn't be without it."

"My work is inside. I do not get as much exercise as I would like, and at times my system gets clogged and I would see the necessity of a good active medicine."

"After one or two doses of Black-Draught, my head clears up and I feel like new."

"For stomach or liver trouble, Black-Draught does good."

Fedford's Black-Draught is recommended by thousands of others for the relief of many common ailments due to a torpid liver, needing laxative or cathartic stimulation.

It is purely vegetable, mild, but positive in action, and leaves no bad after-effects.

Obtainable everywhere. Take

December 12, 1924.
State Board of Prison Control, San Quentin, California.
Gentlemen:

Replying to your letter of inquiry relative to your prisoner, R. E. Whitted, will say that we have no views to express regarding the case other than those set forth in our statement on file in the case. We are perfectly willing to leave the question of sentence to the good discretion of the board and assure you that any leniency which the board may see fit to exercise in the matter will be entirely satisfactory to this office.

Very truly yours,

MARY GARDEN SAYS FLAPPER IS ALL RIGHT

CHICAGO, April 24.—Flappers should "flap" all they wish. They should cut their hair as short as they desire.

Dresses? Well, abbreviate them under the law yells whoa—and lipstick, rouge and other ingredients for youthful appearance can be dabbed on with abandon.

But if a flapper wants to marry—well, that's different—we just can't have "flapper wives."

Mary Garden, American diva, says there must be a parting of the ways for a flapper when she reaches the altar rail.

"But we do not have to reach back to the Victorian age to find the solution for all the problems now attributed to the flapper," Mary says.

"For if your present-day girl meets life with reckless abandon it is because she is now coming into the freedom of thought and action long denied her."

"Greatest Girl in World" "She is the greatest girl the world has ever known—and all she will have to do is to mix a little intelligent thought with her problems to become an excellent wife."

"You wouldn't want to put her back in the long, sweeping dresses of years ago. They were nothing but dirt catchers, trailers for germs."

"And where do flappers get their ideas which seem so shocking to ideas which seem so shocking to married sisters?"

"Hip flasks, necking parties, etc., are not the inventions of the flapper. My, no—they come from the young married girl who goes to the altar rail to escape the dingy office and long hours over a type-writer."

"Fails to Study Problem" "Probably she feels a sort of a protected freedom. She is the 'flapper wife,' who fails to study her problem of married life."

"You can't come home, throw off your crosets, eat schoclaes and keep the figure necessary to hold admiration. Nor will late hours and dissipation be tolerated by a body or mind."

"Girls who marry should look their problem in the face, and solve it—just as a business man meets his daily problems—just as I meet my problems before the public."

"And how am I able to hold my public?—by keeping alert and abreast of the time—my youth, my figure and my voice are constantly watched."

"If I was to marry, and please remember I didn't say I had any such thought, I would meet the problems of married life in the same way—adapting myself to my new surroundings, eager to bring my happiness with me."

"But flappers can't be 'flapper wives.'"

"They must leave behind them at the altar rail the trail of jazz and solve their new problems."

"In this way they can keep their youth, and hold the admiration of their life mate."

TOURING BANKERS VISIT SANTA ANA

Three officials of the Bank of Italy, San Francisco, today have returned to the northern city deeply impressed with the wealth of Orange county and the bright future of Santa Ana, following a tour of the country and a personal inspection of the business and residence districts of Santa Ana.

The officials were A. J. Mount, senior vice president; George W. Benz, vice president, and E. C. Aldwell, assistant secretary. They were guests of M. D. Clark, cashier of the Santa Ana branch of the Bank of Italy, formerly the American National bank, and came here for the purpose of looking over this field to acquaint themselves with the territory in which the branch is operating.

"The officials drove down from San Francisco by automobile, coming to Santa Ana by way of Fullerton and Anaheim," Clark said. "Personal investigations were made in Santa Ana."

This is the first visit to Orange county by the financiers and they were very deeply impressed with the highly developed lands of the county and the air of prosperity evident on all sides."

Heart Trouble or Indigestion?

Heartburn, Pressure Around Heart, Palpitation, a Feeling of Fullness, Shortness of Breath

THIS SIMPLE 3-MINUTE TEST TELLS WHAT'S WRONG

While there are many people who really have heart trouble, there are many thousands more who are literally "scared to death" because they think they have it.

To live in constant fear of Heart Failure is a terrible handicap, especially when probably 90 per cent of the self-diagnosed Heart symptoms—Palpitation, shortness of breath, difficult breathing, a feeling of fullness or pressure around the Heart—are mainly caused by a sour, grassy, upset stomach. To prove that this is true and that your past worries have been a sad mistake—simply make this three-minute test and watch results!

From any good druggist obtain a couple ounces of pure Bisurated Magnesia (either powder or tablets) and beginning with tomorrow take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets immediately after each meal—and if the usual distressing symptoms fail to appear, you may safely rest assured you have found your trouble.

This is a pleasant, inexpensive test—seldom fails to relieve stomach distress, Gas, Sourness and Bloating—almost instantly, and a single trial will convince you. Be sure and ask Bisurated Magnesia, not a laxative.

OBITUARY

Thomas R. Alway was born on December 25, 1836 in Ontario, Canada, and while still an infant his parents moved to Peoria, Illinois, where he grew to be a man. At the age of 20 he was married to Mary E. Widby, shortly after marriage he and his wife moved to Canada and while there the Civil war began. He immediately returned to the United States and enlisted in the 78th Infantry of Illinois, serving through Sherman's March and was wounded twice during that time. He was mustered out of the army in 1865 and resided near his former home in Illinois till he moved to North Dakota. There he lived for 25 years, then moved to the state of Washington. His wife passed away at Okota, Washington 19 years ago. Six years ago he moved to Santa Ana to live with his daughter Mrs. Cora Gatchell. He was a charter member of the G. A. R. at his home in North Dakota, also a member at Orting, Wash., for 4 years. He was a kind and patient man all ways ready to help friends and neighbors, ever thoughtful of his family, living a good christian life to the end. He passed away April 21, 1925, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Gatchell, and funeral services were held from Winblers Mission Funeral Home, April 23, amid a profusion of beautiful flowers, floral tributes of love and sympathy from his many friends and roses that were brought to their beauty of full bloom in his own garden and by his own loving care.

EARTH SHOCKS ROCK COAST OF NEW ENGLAND

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., April 24.—An apparent earthquake of short duration was experienced in several cities and towns bordering on Buzzards bay, on the southern coast of Massachusetts, early today. Certain localities reported dishes hurled from shelves and sleepers awakened.

The earthquake was recorded unofficially at the New Bedford police station at 2:58 a. m. The station building was noticeably shaken, it was said.

Many persons in New Bedford heard the shock, it was said, several of whom fled into the street in fear of serious danger. No property damage was reported.

He Won the Bet

"I was skeptical of all medicine and doctors. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and assured me it had cured him of his stomach trouble. I didn't take any stock in it and he bet me $50 that it would be equally successful in my case. He won the bet." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

WILL DISCUSS SOCIETY FOR ALUMNI HERE

Whether Santa Ana junior college will have an organized alumni association will be decided at a meeting of graduates and sophomores tonight, at 7:30 o'clock, in the home of E. M. Nealley, Main and Glenn streets, Tustin.

Organization of the alumni will be completed if the graduates approve the proposal for an association, and officers will be elected.

According to Mr. Nealley, junior college teacher, who has offered to aid in the organization, the proposal to grant membership to all students who have attended the junior college for one year is meeting favor. Sophomore students would be admitted through this regulation.

A social entertainment is to follow the business session. Members of the junior college faculty have been invited to attend the meeting.

Formation of an alumni association has been urged in order to establish a permanent link between the junior college and graduates. Eight classes have been graduated from the college and a large number of students attended here for the first year of their college course.

CIRCUS ABANDONS WILD BEAST ACTS

NEW YORK, April 24.—Animal acts at the circus have been dropped, so far the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey show is concerned, according to announcement when the show opened its season at New York. There will be plenty of lions, tigers and leopards but they will not put through their paces in the arena.

Public distaste for the dangerous acts and parents' fear of their children's reaction to the mingling of humans and ferocious animals prompted the Ringling Brothers decision.

"There has been enough criticism by the public of wild animal acts," said Jack Ringling "to warrant us in withdrawing them. The quite common impression is prevalent that tigers, lions and such animals are taught by very rough methods and that it is cruel to force them through their stunts."

"Another reason that guided us was that many parents object to bringing young children to a show in which men or women enter cages with ferocious beasts."

The public seems to prefer acts in which animals seem to take an interested and playful part. Acts in which dogs, seals, horses and elephants take part are especially popular. We shall have plenty of this type to act."

Charter Special Coaches to Take Cops to Prison

CINCINNATI, April 24.—The government has chartered two special coaches to make the 44 policemen and dry agents to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta. The prison-bound train, leaves Cincinnati on Monday and some time Tuesday the officers will begin serving terms for violating sections of the constitution which they were sworn to defend.

EXERCISE AND BEAUTY
CHICAGO, April 24.—Exercise is one of the greatest aids to beauty, according to Emily Lloyd, head of the National School of Cosmeticians. "Exercise is a necessity," said Miss Lloyd. "It should be taken outdoors as much as possible. But indoor exercise also builds health and beauty. I know a beautiful slim creature who keeps a photograph in her room and puts on fox trot records, speeds up the time, and dances wildly until perspiration and exhaustion intervene. Then, she hops into a hot bath, soaks awhile and takes a cold shower."

Local Students Gain Honors In College Grades

Recognition for high scholarship has been accorded Miss Mildred Ranny and Kenneth Ranny, two former Santa Ana students, who are now attending college. It was disclosed in a report received here today by Mr. and Mrs. Ranny, 203 South Main street.

Miss Mildred Ranny is a senior at the University of Southern California. In her course she has majored in biology and recently was elected to membership in the biology honor society.

Kenneth Ranny attends the California Institute of Technology. He has specialized in chemical engineering, winning high grades that entitle him to scholarship honors.

WAR ON SLUMS IS PROCLAIMED BY BRITISHERS

LONDON, April 24.—"Down with slums, the hell-hole of childhood!" Throughout the length and breadth of Britain, this battle-cry is going forth from the mouths of high church dignitaries and welfare workers.

War on behalf of slumland's thousands of tiny tots has been declared in earnest, and the crusaders are sparing nobody's feelings in the home truths they tell.

Fuel has been added to their fire by a remarkable series of high society scandals recently appearing in the law courts, in which enormous sums of money have been shown to have changed hands among the rich because of alleged immorality and extortion amid sumptuous surroundings.

It was also, in fact, this same slum-crushing spirit which ostensibly animated the recent extremists' attack in the house of commons on further expenditure of state funds for tours of the Prince of Wales.

"Petted poodles and pampered Pekingese are considered more worth consideration than children in city slums," declared Canon Little, vicar of Blackpool, in a speech at this fashionable seaside resort.

Mrs. George Cadbury, wife of the famous cocoa manufacturer, also has joined the fight.

Denouncing the way money is being spent on other things than houses, in a speech before the National Free Church Council conference at Leeds, Mrs. Cadbury dramatically concluded:

"What about the $2,000,000,000 of our drink bill? What about national expenditure on armaments? We ought to send forth a trumpet call to the whole of the kingdom announcing that the Church of Christ cannot any longer tolerate the awful slum conditions in all our big cities."

Dean Inge of St. Paul's cathedral, known as London's "gloomy dean," has contributed a bit to the campaign fireworks by deploring Britain's method of filling up the slums with undesirable children.

"We are not breeding from our best stocks, but rather from our worst," the dean asserted. "You cannot increase population merely by having large families. Every unwanted baby drives another baby out of the world or prevents it coming into it."

A little more bombardment all around, and it is likely Premier Stanley Baldwin's government will find themselves in decidedly hot water unless something big is done to satisfy the widespread and acute demand for alleviation of the housing shortage and slum conditions.

BAPTIST CHURCH TO STUDY CHINA

Beginning Sunday evening, the First Baptist church of Santa Ana will devote six Sabbaths to a study of China, it was announced today by Mrs. O. S. Catland, general chairman of the committee named to handle the arrangements. The public is invited.

The session April 26 will start at 6 o'clock with a musical program by the Sunday school orchestra and songs by the junior choir. Dr. Lena Leonard Fisher, well known lecturer, will speak on "The Women of China." Steriographic views will be shown.

Chinese decorations will be used in the church and at each session, some special feature of unusual interest will be offered to precede the class study.

The following corps of teachers will have charge of the study on China: Dean, Rev. H. J. Powell; adult teacher, Prof. J. H. Montgomery, Los Angeles; young people, Mrs. Carl Mock and Mrs. J. P. Green; high school age, Mrs. Mary Thomason and Mrs. Cecil Marrs; juniors, Mrs. Edna Ingham and Mrs. Grace Stewart; primary, Mrs. W. W. Cudworth and Miss Grace Roberts.

The general committee is as follows: general chairman, Mrs. O. S. Catland; devotions, Dr. Otto S. Russell; director of dramatics, Mrs. P. Hill; secretary, Mrs. J. Wiley Harris; librarian, Miss Emily Cox; music, Mrs. Otto S. Russell; Mrs. T. R. Trawick and Miss Mildred Marchant; decorations, Mrs. Frank Harris; electrical effects, H. Stearns; special features, Miss Lulu Minter; publicity, Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks.

IMPUDENT THIEF
BIRMINGHAM, Eng., April 24.—After a vicarage here was robbed the following message was found written on a wall: "Dear Parson I thank you very much for the silver and trust the congregation will have a whip round, and I shall come and have a look at it later on.—Silversmith."

Publishers Are Organized On Business Basis

The Southern California Editorial association is now organized on a business basis and as such expects to center its activities on business problems of mutual interest of its members, rather than to engage in junkets or social activities. Members of the executive committee, at a recent meeting, adopted a resolution to the effect that hereafter the association would participate in only such activities, trips and junkets or gatherings as the association itself may arrange or sponsor, consisting of an annual outing and an annual business meeting.

Because its membership represents varying community, political and other affiliations, the association as an organization will not give its official recognition to activities that might have for their purpose the gaining of influence for any individual community as opposed to other communities or the gaining for corporations, individuals or organizations, the influence and editorial support of the members of the association.

All activities, trips or junkets, except those sponsored and arranged for by the association, will be left to the individual decision of each publisher as to whether he wishes to participate in them.

The association has opened its business office at 515 American Bank building, Los Angeles, with Ben H. Read as managing director.

LOCAL STUDENTS LOSE IN DEBATE

Santa Ana high school students lost a close decision in a debate against the Los Angeles high school here last night on the question of the federal control of hydroelectric projects. The judges' vote was 2 to 1, upholding the argument of the Los Angeles team for federal control.

The debate closes the schedule for league meets in the Southern California conference. Arrangements have been completed for a post-season practice debate, with the Manual Arts high school, of Los Angeles, on Friday, May 8.

David Roberts and Raymond Grisct composed the Santa Ana team. A second team went to Los Angeles yesterday afternoon for a practice debate. The decision was lost there also by a 2 to 1 count. Students of the traveling team were Miss Louise Turner and Fred Taylor. At the next meet with Manual Arts high school, the team is to debate here. Edward Hummel, debating coach, made arrangements for the post season meet.

BLANCHE SWEET WINS LAURELS IN NEW FILM

BY REVIEWER

The haunting ghost of Hardy's "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," one of the most tragic figures ever impressed upon the popular mind, is vividly and pathetically re-fleshed by Blanche Sweet at Walker's theater.

Under the direction of her husband, Marshal Neilan, the blonde star has added another triumph to her list of memorable successes in the character by which the novelist paid his sardonic respects to the double standard of morality.

The role was a happy selection. Both in type and personality does Miss Sweet encompass "Tess," the maid who falls in her timid, ingenious way to avert the smirching circumstance which finally lands her on the gibbet.

There are scenes in which she is perhaps too thespian. Familiar of Hardy's heroine may feel that she misses by a shade suggesting the full measure of tragic resignation to her fate. But on the whole, the portrait is excellent. A little more of that sombre apathy which Miss Sweet incorporated in her superb "Anna Christie" would have made the likeness perfect.

It is interesting to note that Neilan and Sweet score so decisively in this first joint effort since their marriage at a time when a number of other director-actress matrimonial alliances have split for professional activities, after long periods of dual endeavor.

Neilan discovers, or permits expression of, historic resonance in his wife which even Griffith didn't fully exploit. "Tess" shows Neilan in a new light as well. His usual horseplay is eliminated. There is practically no comedy. There are few essays at subtlety. He has translated the book with considerable fidelity and straight-away march tempo.

Conrad Nagel as "Angel Clare" gives his best performance, and Stuart Holmes contributes a striking interpretation of "Alec D'Urberville," into whose greedy arms "Tess's" designing father flings his untutored daughter. George Fawcett plays the father, Victory Bateman the mother, and Joseph Dowling the priest who scourgings "Angel's" conscience for having deserted his bride.

Eggers Is Jailed For Coast Officers

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Acquitted of a $14,000 robbery charge, Theodore Eggers, identified as one of the Pacific coast hi-jackers, was today held without bail, awaiting extradition to California. Eggers, with a companion, James Curry, will face charges of aiding in the escape of government prisoners, following a gun battle in the federal building in San Francisco last year, in which Apol Eggers, one of the prisoners, was killed by a deputy.

Bethlehem Steel Declares Dividend

NEW YORK, April 24.—Directors of the Bethlehem Steel corporation have declared regular quarterly dividends on preferred stock. Earnings for the first quarter were announced as $1.66 a share on the common stock, against $1.91 in the same quarter last year and $1.07 in the quarter ended December 31, 1924. Operations throughout the quarter averaged 77.5 per cent of the capacity, against 70 per cent in the previous quarter, according to a statement issued by President Grace. The current operations are 70 per cent of capacity, he said.

Stage and Screen

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS
YOST—Vaudeville and "The Goose Hangs High," with Constance Bennett.
WALKER—"Tess of the D'Urbervilles," with Blanche Sweet.
WEST END—"The Wizard of Oz," with Larry Semon.

AUDIENCE TAKES OZ TRIP AT WEST END

At the West End theatre, the public is being given a blessed opportunity to embark on a journey into the make-believe Land of Oz via the film production of L. Frank Baum's famous story, "The Wizard of Oz" with Larry Semon in the eccentric role of the Score crow originated on the stage by Fred Stone.

A sweet atmosphere of romance pervades the entire story and the sincere love scenes between Larry Semon and Dorothy Dwan will come as a pleasant surprise as Semon is purely an eccentric comedian.

Spectacular settings, in keeping with the atmosphere of fantasy, keep up the illusion of make-believe and aid materially in making "The Wizard of Oz" the greatest photoplay of the season.

The Kansas cyclone is the real "wiz" of the Wizard of Oz. It is by all means the most pretentious production Larry Semon, popular eccentric comedian, has attempted and with the capable support of such well known players as Bryant Washburn, Charlie Murray, Dorothy Dwan, Virginia Pearson and others, no adverse criticism could possibly be made about the acting.

Farmer's Will Leaving $100,000 Is Found In Can

MODESTO, Calif., April 24.—Nestled in a rusty can lying beneath a pile of debris, a typewritten will signed by John W. Nelson, eccentric Stanislaus farmer, bequeathing his $100,000 estate to Miss Ida M. Isaacs, of Sacramento, has been found by Land C. Gates, a neighbor.

Nelson was burned to death in his home in 1918. The will, found yesterday, bears the date of June 5, 1918.

With the finding of the somewhat charred but legible remains of the purported will, sensational developments are promised by Attorney Thomas Anaya, counsel for Miss Isaacs.

Oldest Film Firm Is In New Hands

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Pioneer Vitagraph company of America, the oldest motion picture organization in the world, has passed into the hands of Warner Bros., Inc.

Control of the company was purchased by Warner Brothers from J. Stuart Blackton, Albert E. Smith and a representative of William T. Rock, the man who organized it 28 years ago.

Henry M. Warner announces the deal is in no sense an amalgamation and that his company will take over all Vitagraph contracts.

AUCTION BY CANDLE
WARTON, Eng., April 24.—The ancient custom of selling by candle is still practiced in England. A candle is lighted with a pin one inch below the top. The bidding starts and the man who bids as the pin drops out, because of the flame burning down to it, gets the article on sale.

Saturday only, a new $1.25 grass catcher FREE with any new or used lawn mower over $5.00, at Steiners Lawn Mower Repair Shop, corner Fourth and Ross Sts.

"THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH" NOW AT YOST.

Hailed as "the great American family picture," "The Goose Hangs High," James Cruze's latest production, opened last night at the Yost theater and captured a first night audience with its simple story, human characterizations and flawless direction.

As it unfolds on the screen, there is an unaffected naturalness about it, an air of homey realism that stamps it as refreshingly different from the usual run of picture plays.

The story concerns itself with an average American family—typical every-day folks—and develops the sort of dramatic, pathetic and comic incidents that people experience in real life.

The plot hinges on the sacrifices of the Ingals parents and the selfishness of their children. This is clearly brought out in the earlier scenes of the film when the children, with characteristic thoughtlessness, desert their parents on Christmas eve to celebrate the holiday with their own friends.

A crisis threatens when the father loses his job and the children face the prospect of having to earn their own living. The manner in which they work out the family salvation is interestingly and vividly depicted.

Scout Love Theory In Woman Murder

BOISE, Ida., April 24.—Theories that Mrs. Louise Unternahrer, murdered at Culver City, Calif., had posed as a wealthy divorcee and was a victim of a love affair, were secured today by Boise friends. She lived here for 20 years and has made two visits here since she moved to California in 1914.

She was small, plain of feature and dress and physically unattractive. Skilled as a lace maker, dress designer and needlewoman, she was much in demand by society women of Boise. She owned a small residence property which she sold here in 1921, but her means were modest and she never wore expensive jewelry or carried valuables.

She was 51 years of age, according to Antonio Unternahrer, photographer and engraver, of Boise, from whom she was divorced, in 1911. They were married in Switzerland in 1893 and came to America, living for a year in Baltimore, where both plied their trade, before coming to Boise.

FLYS ARE POLITE

LONDON, April 24.—Julian Huxley, eminent biologist, says flies are polite. A fly in a boy was seen to devour a small insect, but when a female fly was placed in the box with it, the next insect was killed by the male and given to his mate. Even after the female was removed, the male remembered his manners by catching another insect and saving it for the "wife."

Half the world is half asleep

It is terrible to feel all dragged out—to live from one day to the next in a constant state of weariness. Yet thousands do, because constipation is destroying their energy—even their interest in life. Only Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings sure and safe relief from this disease.

Fired because he was always tired

"Drowsy Bill," they called him—a lifeless, eternally tired, old-young man. He tried hard enough, but his energies always sagged before the job was done. One day Bill was missing. . . . fired.

In every walk of life you'll find men and women who are fighting constipation—the dread disease which robs the body of its energy and strength. But thank goodness, there is pleasant, safe, permanent relief from constipation—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is what doctors call a bulk food. As it journeys through the body, its fiber remains unchanged. Therefore, it can sweep the intestine clean. ALL-BRAN also absorbs and carries moisture through the intestinal tract, thus stimulating regular, healthy action. ALL-BRAN urges nature to act normally—something that habit-forming pills and drugs can never do.

Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN

Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, sprinkled over other cereals or cooked with hot cereals. Delicious with fruit. Also use the many recipes given on every package. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Be careful! Only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. Be sure to get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. A part-bran product is only partially effective—maybe not at all. Kellogg's is the original and only ALL-BRAN. All grocers sell it. Served in leading hotels and restaurants. Buy a package today. The original ALL-BRAN—ready-to-eat

HORACE FINE IS HONORED BY CLUB

were as careless in printing news as some people are with their talk. "There are half a million opportunities to make mistakes in a paper the size of the Register," Stephenson said, in pointing out that opportunities for mistakes lay in gathering the news, in writing, in copy reading of written stories, in typesetting, ad in correction of proofs.

He illustrated the point by recounting the printing by the Register recently of a birth notice under the heading of "too late to classify."

Talks on Crime
"What is crime?" the managing editor asked in touching upon the subject of a movement among newspapers to put crime stories on inside pages instead of "playing" them on the first page. He then mentioned certain types of crime that should be given first page positions.

"Nineteen-twentieths of the readers of newspapers are adults and are competent to select the type of news they want to read," he commented, adding that "few children read more than the funnies."

Herbert Clarke, conductor of the Long Beach Municipal band, who 25 years was with Sousa's band and for five years was a soloist, gave two cornet solos and as an encore gave a duet with D. C. Clanton, conductor of the Santa Ana band.

Sketch of Fine
To a fellow newspaperman, after the meeting Fine sketched his life as follows:

"An overgrown, awkward farmer lad of 19 in the early part of 1889, I entered the employ of Edgar Johnson, now publisher of the Fullerton Tribune, as 'devil' to learn the printing trade. Johnson, at that time, had just started the Weekly Tribune in Santa Ana. I worked for Johnson three months and then went to the Weekly Standard, published by Dan Baker, located in the offices now occupied by the Santa Ana Bulletin.

"The Santa Ana Blade, then a morning paper, was located in a room next to the Standard, with H. A. Peabody as its editor and principal owner. In September, 1889, I went to work on the Blade as pressman and galley boy.

Charles D. Overshiner, later to be postmaster, was the foreman of the Blade.
"Later, when the Blade changed to an evening paper and moved to the ground floor of a room in the rear part of the Grand Opera House building, at French and Fourth streets, I set type in the afternoon. I operated a cylinder drum press run by handpower.
"The Blade passed through several hands, finally becoming the property of Horace McPhee. After two years' work with him, he gave me the position of manager of circulation. I handled circulation, making collections from subscribers in the forenoon and did press work in the afternoon.

Ran Circulation.
"Later I bought the circulation of the Blade, but continued to work in the afternoons as pressman. I made a profit on the delivery of the paper and drew a salary of $8 a week for the afternoon work.

"I did some reporting along with my circulation work, meeting trains and picking up persons as I made my collections from subscribers. I also attended night meetings in the city and county, taking a personal interest in all matters pertaining to either the city or county. My work along this line was entirely voluntary and was in the interest of the paper to some extent.

"For my circulation profits depended upon the popularity of the papers. Other editors were not so progressive and did not send reporters to night meetings.
"I continued ownership of the circulation under a working agreement with McPhee until he sold the Blade to Frank Clarkson, in 1914. Clarkson made me business manager and I worked for him in that capacity until November, 1915. Business was bad and Clarkson decided he would take over the business management personally and let me go.

Learned Linotyping
"While on the Blade I did a great deal of advertising soliciting and advertising writing. I also learned to operate the linotype by working in the noon hour while the regular operator went to lunch. I became proficient on the machine and did a great deal of night work on special jobs, for which I received the handsome pay of 40 cents an hour for overtime labor. Reporting and learning machine operation were done mostly on my own time.

"I never had but four years of schooling, and when I started setting type I could not spell dog. My schooling was very much interrupted, that is, I would attend school for a time and then have to step out to earn money for my folks.
"When I left the Blade in 1915 I went to work for the Register on a half day schedule in the advertising department for the Christmas holidays of 1915. In January, 1916, I bought a half interest in the oil station at Main and Second, with the expectation of quitting the newspaper business, but I found that the quietness of the station got on my nerves and I accepted an offer to work for the Register in the forenoons, being given my choice between reporting and working on advertising.

Became Reporter
"I chose reporting, although I was not what might be termed an experienced writer, my work on the Blade being largely confined to picking up persons. I worked for several months reporting in the forenoon and running the station in the afternoon. Then Terry Stephenson, now managing editor of the Register, asked me to come in for full time.

"Here I have been ever since. I have had only the two jobs in my life, working on the Blade twenty-six years and the Register ten years." Friends say Horace's success has been due to a deep interest in the concerns for which he worked and his ambition to see them successful, and his spirit of giving the fullest service possible, without even considering hours of labor. His success in newspaper work has been due more to success of his own time and his own energy in behalf of his employers, rather than forcefulness in writing or in business management.

According to intimate friends, Horace has acquired considerable property in Santa Ana, all of which has been obtained through saving his money in building and loan associations. Among property owned by him is 190 feet facing on Broadway, at the corner of Fifth street.

Felt Wage Lure
"What influenced you to enter newspaper work?" Horace was asked.

"Charles Rowan, father of Mrs. Ray Rowan Ballard, former proof reader on the Register, was a close friend of mine. He worked at night setting type and was making what, in those days, was considered big money. Doing farming work as I was, I did not see much money, and the lure of good wages for printing and my association with Rowan brought me into the game.

"Yes, I would advise any boy with a reasonably good nose for news to enter the newspaper work. While education is an important factor in newspaper work, it is not the sole factor. A man with a college education, of course, has certain advantages. But if he has the education and no nose for news, he cannot make the same success as a man with little education and a good nose for news. Energy, discernment, judgment and affability count more for successful newspaper work than does education.

"I was correspondent here for the San Francisco Examiner and when the Los Angeles Examiner was started some 22 years ago I was assigned to the Santa Ana correspondence for that paper. I have been Associated Press correspondent for approximately 20 years, except for one year after leaving the Blade. The Blade was an Associated Press paper and the correspondence was given to one of the staff.

"I prepared for the Associated Press and the Examiner an obituary of Madame Helene Modjeska. Her death was probably one of the greatest pieces of news I ever handled for the outside world."

Use Lemons to Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix with the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents.

Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

mer, First Arkansas Infantry.

John Heaston, rancher, Huntington Beach, who served in the Pendleton division.

Other members listed on the roster as living in or about Santa Ana are Jim Pettors, Fourth Arkansas regiment, and J. D. Price, Eleventh Louisiana cavalry.

All Americans by Birth.
If there were such a thing as 100 per cent Americanism in any organization or among individuals, that distinction could have been appropriated by the Confederacy, composed entirely of Americans by birth, tracing their ancestors to the early settlers. There were no soldiers of fortune among these grim veterans, who dared all that men can dare, who endured all that men can endure, and fought with a gallantry and courage that even compelled the respect and admiration of their bitter opponents.

To quote the words of Colonel Kimberlin: "They marched, fought and starved for a lost cause and overcame odds—without honor or reward than that of unsullied honor and satisfied conscience."

These men in grey, of whom President Roosevelt wrote: "The world has never seen better soldiers than those who followed Lee," did not even have the reward so dear to the fighting men—military decorations. No victory medals, no war crosses, no decorations or insignia to indicate bravery and gallantry in action. Had there been such things, there might have been difficulty in making just rewards and fair distinctions. Colonel Kimberlin intimated.

Once Members of Camp.
The camp records show that the following members, former residents of the city, have died since the camp was organized:

P. T. Adams, a rancher of Tusling; G. E. Barclay, father of Miss Bertha Barclay, principal of Jefferson school; R. S. Cullom, rancher; John S. Dameron, rancher; H. W. Head, father of Attorney H. C. Head; Col. W. F. Heathman, city recorder; Dr. J. M. Lacy, father of Mrs. James Murray; Attorney Victor Montgomery, father of Tarver Montgomery, well known local real estate man; James D. Ott, drayman, father of Miss Lulu Ott, chief deputy tax collector; H. A. Peabody, veteran newspaperman and well known writer, father of George T. Peabody, business man and contractor of Newport Beach, and of Mrs. Sallie Powell, of Santa Ana, and W. Peabody, prominent Manila business man; Dr. H. C. Purdom, father of Thomas M. Purdom, local real estate man; Thomas Sears, father of Henry Sears, Los Angeles railway official; John R. Smith, father of Ridley Smith, local manager of L. J. Christopher company; W. N. Tedford, father of Walter B. Tedford, vice president of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank; J. A. Willson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and subsequently city recorder; Dr. W. B. Wall, father of William Wall, and of Mrs. Pearl Lang, a Los Angeles dentist.

NEAR MILLION IN TAXES YET DUE

lector's windows may be avoided

by a little preparation, Lamb indicated. If taxpayers will see that their checks and legal descriptions are in proper shape before they approach the window, much time can be saved and the wait in line will be greatly shortened.

The tax collector is making his usual concessions this time to belated taxpayers. His office will remain open Saturday to 5 p. m., instead of observing the usual noon closing time. On Monday, the last day of grace, the office will remain open an extra hour in the afternoon, until 6 o'clock.

That hour marks the "dead line" for the taxpayers. Beyond it looms the delinquent list, and a penalty for delay.

Do you get these 5 ALL-IMPORTANT QUALITIES in the shortening you buy?

Unless you do, you don't know the new satisfaction that comes from the use of a perfect shortening. See for yourself how FLUFFO supplies every single one of these essentials.

FLUFFO is PURE, made only from the best vegetable oils, refined and re-refined. Its CREAMINESS comes from aerating or "fluffing" the shortening, so that it mixes evenly with sugar and flour. The airtight can brings it to you as FRESH and sweet as the day it was packed. FLUFFO is made from one of the most DIGESTIBLE vegetable oils known, and it does not break down and smoke at proper cooking temperatures.

And here at last is a shortening that has no pronounced FLAVOR of its own—just the delicate richness a perfect shortening should have.

Once you use FLUFFO, you'll always use it.

Get a can from your grocer. Try it at our risk. Your money back if you are not absolutely satisfied.

CONSIDER SIX MEN FOR POLY GRID POST

Local Athletes In Meet Trials Tomorrow

PAUL, DAWSON, M'DERMOTT TO TOIL FOR POLY

400 Star Athletes Entered In Trials For Classic; Nurmi to Run In P. M.

Three Santa Ana high school athletes—Howard Paul, Ray Dawson and Alan McDermott—and a number of others from Tustin and Huntington Beach will represent Orange county in the heats and preliminaries Saturday morning for the annual Southern California Interscholastic meet.

The trials will begin at 9 o'clock at the Los Angeles Coliseum and the same ticket will be good for the Paava Nurmi meet in the afternoon.

Nearly 400 of the Southland's premier prep tracksters will compete. San Diego, Manuel Arts, Lincoln, Glendale and Chaffey are favorites to qualify the largest number of men.

Paul, Poly's great little broad jumper, is a cinch to qualify and thus enter the finals of the 22 foot mark consistent jumper and if he gets in one of his good jumps he, also, should get into the finals. Dawson will have some tough competition in the shot but he should qualify as should Paul in the low hurdles.

Orange county's list of entries follows:

229 Stroheim, San Juan Capistrano; 120 yard high hurdles, Marriott, Tustin; Hensley, Turner and Cate, Huntington Beach; 220 yard low hurdles, Paul, Santa Ana; Marriott, Tustin; 440, Hill, Huntington Beach; pole vault, Bradbury and Stinson, Huntington Beach; broad jump, McDermott and Paul, Santa Ana; shot, Dawson, Santa Ana; discuss, Bradbury and Dorke, Huntington Beach.

SCHOOL BOARD MAY APPOINT TWO MENTORS

Kienholtz, Best, Pierce, Winterburn, Blakesley, Hess Are Possibilities

By EDIE WEST
 (Sports Editor The Register)
 No less than six well-known football men, some with national reputations, are interested in the Santa Ana high school coaching post which Ed Covington will vacate this June. This was gleaned from reliable sources here today. Those considered as possibilities, it was learned, are:

1—Eddie Kienholtz, former head coach at Santa Clara college.
 2—Charles M. Best, former head coach at Purdue university.
 3—James Pierce, assistant coach at Glendale high school.
 4—Jack Winterburn, coach at San Mateo union high school.
 5—Steve Blakesley, former Ohio State university halfback.
 6—Bill Hess, assistant coach at the University of Southern California.

At the same time it was understood that the city board of education will take no official action toward appointing a new coach for one and possibly two weeks.

Ed Covington's resignation has not yet been presented to the board and will not be until Tuesday afternoon. The document was filed with Alex Clara college.

The Register is informed, reliably, that two coaches may be named to superintendent football here next season. One would have charge of grid work in the high school while the other would direct junior college football, it was said.

Eddie Kienholtz was in Santa Ana this week and conferred with members of the board of education and other well known athletic authorities. Kienholtz left Santa Clara at Christmas and his place was taken by Adam Walsh, who was captain of last fall. When he was coach at Long Beach, Kienholtz put out teams that were heralded far and wide for their consistent successes. Long Beach is again after his services, it is reported.

Best, now employed by The Register in an advertising department capacity, formerly was head coach at Drake University, Purdue University and the University of the South. He also coached at Lafayette University. He is a short story author of considerable note, having penned a number of entertaining football yarns.

Coached at Glendale

Pierce played varsity football for three seasons at the University of Indiana and was assistant coach two years ago at the University of Arizona. Last fall he was line coach of the Glendale high school eleven, champions of Southern California.

Winterburn was quarterback on Glenn ("Pop") Warner's University of Pittsburgh team of 1923 which came to the Pacific Coast to play Stanford. He now is coach at San Mateo high school and had the strongest team in Northern California last fall until several of his best players were declared ineligible.

Winterburn is said to have one of the strongest written recommendations ever given by "Pop" Warner.

Blakesley played halfback opposite the All-American Pete Stinchcomb on the Ohio State varsity which met California at Pasadena on New Year's Day, 1923.

Hess was one of "Gloom" Gus Henderson's assistants when the latter was coach at U. S. C.

Michigan Has Real Cinderpath Winner In Colored Athlete

DEHART HUBBARD

Michigan is expecting a great deal from its sensational colored star, Dehart Hubbard, on track and field this season. Besides being one of the greatest broad jumpers, Hubbard can also do the high hurdles and the sprints in close record time. In fact, within the past few weeks he has equaled two world marks in the short dashes indoors. He will compete in the Penn relay games today and tomorrow.

Champ Recovers From Poisoning

NEW YORK, April 24.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, who was stricken with ptomaine poisoning shortly after his arrival from Los Angeles yesterday, was reported to have fully recovered today.

It was said at the hotel where Dempsey is registered that the champion's indisposition was not at all serious and the fact he went to bed was largely a precautionary measure.

We fix almost anything. Fix-it Shop, 105 E. Third. Phone 2520.

Three important changes have been made in next year's basketball rules. These are:

1. Elimination of the rule requiring players attending a jump ball to keep one hand behind the back.

2. Abolition of goal zones, two free throws being awarded to a player fouled only when in the act of throwing for a goal from the floor.

3. Overtime periods for high school and younger players reduced from five to three minutes each.

The elimination of the hand-behind-the-back rule is the result of a long fight that began shortly after the rule was placed in effect about eight years ago. The restriction long has been considered a superfluous one.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Gabe Kaufmann, manager of Wayne ("Big") Munn, has signed articles for a match with Ed ("Strangler") Lewis at Floyd Fitzsimmons' bowl at Michigan City, Ind., on Decoration day. Lewis was guaranteed 60 per cent of a $30,000 purse, Munn getting 40 per cent. Billy Sadow, Lewis' manager, agreed that the diamond studded championship belt would go to the winner.

BOWLS HIGH AVERAGE

Lee Brannon averaged 227 pins for five games at the A. and B. alleys last night when he bowled 256, 222, 232, 207 and 221.

2500 ENTRIES IN PENN RELAY TRACK CLASSIC

By HENRY L. FARRELL
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Little athletes and big ones, fat ones and skinny ones from all over the country were on the field in the big Pennsylvania stadium for the annual carnival which started here today.

The carnival is billed annually as being bigger and better than ever and the stadium seemed hardly large enough this year for the mobs of school boys and college athletes who had gathered for the two days of sport.

There were more than 2500 entries from 300 schools and colleges and the leading athletes of the east, middle west and south were named for some of the specialties on the program.

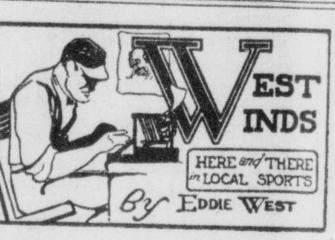

Foreign entries included representatives from England, New Zealand, Canada and Cuba.

Lord Burghley, Cambridge hurdler, was England's representative. He was a member of the British Olympic team and is the leading hurdler on the other side, although he may not do so well in competition here.

A. V. Porritt of Oxford, is a New Zealander. He was the only member of the New Zealand Olympic team in Paris last summer and he had to work his own way to the games.

It is not likely that Burghley or Porritt will be in the best of shape as they had a rather harrowing trip on the Homeric and have had only one day to get rid of their sea legs.

Many baseball players have their pet superstitions. "Rabbit" Maranville, for example, always refuses to put on a clean pair of uniform pants so long as he hits safely.

Hand made birds for Orange county sportsmen.

That's no hunter's pipe dream. Within a year the county may be stocked with valley and mountain quail, grouse and pheasants—grown from selected stock and raised with all the care that can be given them.

Following the experience of Oregon and Washington where game birds are successfully raised in captivity, California is preparing to build a hunter's paradise, too.

With convict labor from Folsom penitentiary available, a state farm is to be constructed near the prison. Young birds will be supplied bird fanciers around Folsom until maturity. From the state prison farm depopulated bird areas will be restocked.

Santa Ana lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., has done its bit toward saving, before it is too late, the last of the herd of elk—long survivors of America's great wilderness.

When George Briggs, local sportsman, explained the plan of the Izaak Walton league to purchase lands that will save these noble animals from death by starvation—the keenest of sufferings—the local lodge immediately subscribed and forwarded a substantial sum to the fund.

The land on which the Izaak Walton league holds options is in Wyoming. It gives the elk a direct runway between summer and winter range. Extra feeding corals will save hundreds of calves now doomed to starvation.

The heavy toll of death from being chased while in a weakened condition will cease and they will grow strong as they feed on these luscious acres.

NEWMAN BOXES ALEXANDER AT H. B. TONIGHT

TONIGHT'S CARD

Main Event—Nick Newman vs. Vic Alexander, heavyweights, (10 rounds). Semi-windup—Bobby Bridges vs. Young Sam Langford, 138 pounds (6 rounds). Preliminaries—Billy Ryan vs. Joe Mendivil, 118 pounds (6 rounds).

Manual Jurado vs. John Guinto, 125 pounds (4 rounds). Kid Lucero vs. Young Garcia, 118 pounds (4 rounds).

Vic Alexander, a strapping colored fellow who stood up for eight rounds and swapped punches with George Godfrey, and Nick Newman, a New Yorker who was good enough to outpoint that singular Senegalese Battling Siki, give Orange county a taste of 10-round boxing tonight.

The heavyweights collide at Kid Mexico's new Alabama avenue arena at Huntington Beach.

While the advance sale warranted the prediction that the swart emporium would be taxed to its capacity, officials of the beach club issued word today that plenty of fine seats still were available and would be placed on sale at the ticket office early in the evening.

Newman hasn't suffered defeat since his arrival on the Pacific Coast two months ago. He has engaged in several contests and while he hasn't shown much tendency to be a "knockout" he has had all the native heavyweights floundering clear of his hands.

Alexander doesn't bar any of them. He showed gameness and stamina against Godfrey. His record is a good one. When he arrived at Huntington Beach with his retinue of followers early today he was bubbling over with confidence. He said he expected to win by a knockout inside of six rounds.

Tonight's card will be bolstered by four preliminaries, including those two good lightweights, Bobby Bridges and Young Sam Langford.

Billy Darnley, former manager of Johnny Adams, ex-lightweight king of the Pacific Coast, will referee. Darnley has a good reputation as a fearless and efficient official.

The first bout is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock.

Grunion to Run Along County's Beaches Tonight

Grunion will run tonight. The tiny fish are scheduled to begin their third spawn of the season all along the Orange county beachline about 10 o'clock. They roll in to shore on the incoming waves about the time of the new moon.

Grunion also will run tomorrow night, beginning about 10:20 o'clock, and Sunday night, beginning about 10:57 o'clock.

A large number of grunion hunters combed the beaches two weeks ago during a "run" and many reported unusual success in garnering the tender sea morsel.

Ace Hudkins To Meet Kid Kaplan

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—"Ace" Hudkins, the lightweight who startled boxing men by defeating Joe Benjamin, today signed a contract to appear in a 10-round bout at Vernon on the night of June 2.

FIPPS CRACKS HIT AND WINS FOR M'FADDENS

"Buck" Fipps, the ponderous catcher who swings a wicked bludgeon, was the hero of the John McFadden Hardware company force today.

Big "Buck" came up for his licks at a crucial time in last night's Santa Ana Indoor Baseball league game between the McFaddens and the crack O. A. Haley D. B's.

His team was trailing, 3 to 2. The sacks were drunk. "Buck" delivered. He rode one of Pitcher Horace Snow's fast ones to center and the hit sent two runs clattering over home plate. They were enough to give him team a 4-to-3 victory.

The win put the undefeated McFaddens further out in first place in the league standing. They now have four victories.

"Buck" Wilcox pitched a no-hit game last week and he came right back with a two-hitter game but the Haley's constantly had him in hot water just the same. Errors were numerous and the Haley's are dangerous with men on the paths so Wilcox was a glad and tired youngster when he got rid of his last man in the seventh.

Snow pitched a fine game himself and but for one bad break, might have won his game. This touch of misfortune occurred in the fatal sixth frame when the McFaddens tallied their winning runs. Echols, first up, waited a lazy fly to right that Foster was waiting for. The ball suddenly dropped into the field for a single.

Two infield errors followed in succession, filling the bases and then Fipps clicked his single to center.

Tonight's game sends the hard-hitting Southern California Edisons against Earl Jones and his Chandler club.

The box score:

McFadden Co. O. A. Haley's

Wilkes, 188.4 1 2 Snow, 11 0 0 Echols, 25 4 1 0 Cogan, 15 0 0 0

GYMNASTIC STUNTS SET FOR TOMORROW

More than 150 gymnastic leaders and directors are expected here tomorrow when the annual Southern California Y. M. C. A. Boys' Leaders conference is held at the local Y. M. C. A.

A program of stunts, between 2 and 3:30 p. m. and gymnastic competition, from 3:30 to 5 p. m., will be held and the public is invited, according to announcement today by R. R. Russick, local "Y" physical director.

At least 10 Y. M. C. A. physical directors will attend the conference.

Tunney May Give Up Fistic Title

NEW YORK, April 24.—Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, on his return from Hot Springs, announced that he was willing to give up his title and enter the heavyweight class permanently.

Tunney, who is matched to meet Tom Gibbons at the Polo Grounds, June 5, said he had realized that he was making a mistake in trying to fight at 175 pounds as he was getting too heavy to make the weight without reducing his effectiveness.

The present season marks the 20th year of the Virginia State baseball league.

Hutchison Partial To Aces Since He Won British Open

JACK HUTCHISON

Stars in sport are superstitious, professional golfers and ball players in particular.

Jack Hutchison, one of the most colorful golfers in the game, relates a series of interesting incidents which he feels played a part in the winning of the British open three years ago, and incidentally proves Jack is no exception to the theory of superstition.

Here is the way "Hutch" tells it: "When I left Chicago for New York my Pullman berth was No. 1. Arriving in New York and registering at a hotel, my room number was three aces, 111. Getting aboard the steamer for England I was assigned to cabin A 11.

"The aces that were being shipped me at every stop started to cause me some worry. I made up my mind they were going to be either a mascot.

"When I played the eighth hole of the St. Andrews course I realized that the string of aces was a mascot. I made it in 1.

Piping 'Em Off
Yesterday's hero — Walter Johnson, Washington's star pitcher, was called on as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning with the bases filled and delivered a double that scored two runs, the Senators beating the Yankees, 2 to 1.

The Giants made it six victories in a row when they knocked off the Braves again by the score of 8 to 4. Virgil Barnes pitched for the Giants against Jess, his brother.

Three errors in the ninth inning let in the run that gave the White Sox a 1-to-0 victory over the Tigers.

Rogers Hornsby was hit on the head by one of Luque's fast balls and he will be out of the game for several days. The Reds beat the Cards 7 to 2.

Kiki Cuyler dropped a fly ball and let in two runs that enabled the Cubs to beat the Pirates 10 to 9.

Heavy hitting off four pitchers gave the Athletics a 15-to-4 victory over the Red Sox.

The Indians came from behind a five-run lead and downed the Browns, 14 to 9.

Three homers by Mogan, Huber and Henline gave the Phils a 10-to-8 victory over the Robins. It was the fifth game in a row dropped by Brooklyn.

WHITE SHRINE INSTALLATION IN FULLERTON
FULLERTON, April 24.—Impressive White Shrine installation ceremonies were held here Wednesday night in the Masonic temple. Guests present represented Glendale, Huntington Beach and Hermosa Beach.

The retiring officers who performed the installation ceremonies were Emily Warren, worthy high priestess; Helen Wishard, worthy chaplain; Pearl Garrison, worthy herald; Kitty Kelly Smith, worthy scribe, and Lela Isbell, worthy organist.

Following an impressive dramatic reading by Emanuel Smith, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: Alta Rodelfer, worthy high priestess; Frances Isbell, watchman of shepherds; Florence Knight, noble prophetess; Maud Hoag, worthy scribe; Elizabeth Brooks, worthy treasurer; Elsie Buchanan, worthy chaplain; Ethel Linsdell, worthy chaplain; Ethel Linsdell, worthy shepherdess; Phyllis McKee, worthy guide; Hazel Smalley, proxy for Lela Isbell; Floyd Benson of Anaheim, proxy for Charles McComber; Arthur Staley and Welcome Mayhew, wisemen; J. Charles Thamer, king; Annie Linsdell, queen; Anna Hatter, first handmaid; Esther Benson, second handmaid; and Anna Cowles, third handmaid; Chelissa McCormick, worthy organist; Jane Hungerford, worthy guardian, and David Rathbone, worthy guard.

The Perfect Shortening
for Pies and Pastry

Cudahy's Puritan 100% Pure Leaf Lard
(Old Fashioned Kettle Rendered)

THE goodness of pies and pastry depends upon the shortening. Cudahy's Puritan Lard is "The Pastry Lard"—because it is recognized as the perfect shortening.

It produces delicate, tender, flaky crust—light and melting to the taste, yet of a texture that prevents soggy from the juices of the filler.

Pie-making is the severest test of shortening. Cudahy's Puritan Lard successfully meets this test and is equally superior for every other cooking purpose.

Use Puritan Lard for better pastry.

Police Officers Get Reward for Youths' Arrest
FULLERTON, April 24.—Officers Annin and Deist of the Fullerton police force, are dividing a reward of $100, which they received for apprehending two United States army deserters, William and Dennis Sullivan, twin brothers whom they arrested Sunday as vagrants.

When no instructions came from General Howe of Fort Bliss, from whose division they were supposed to have deserted, the two men were transferred to the county bastille, but a telegram yesterday instructed the delivery of the youths to military authorities in San Diego.

FRATERNAL NEWS

Calumpit Camp

A very short business session of Calumpit camp No. 25, Department of California, United Spanish War Veterans, was held last Tuesday night, the camp adjourning at 8 to visit Anaheim post of the American Legion.

At Tuesday's meeting, the officer of the day, Frank P. Rowe, introduced a resolution that the business meeting adjourn hereafter at 10:30 p. m. sharp. This will probably necessitate appointment of an executive committee to handle a large part of the business so as to expediate matters.

Patriotic Instructor R. H. Lee made a proposal in writing to the camp, to be taken up at the next meeting, concerning disposition of the business of handling the flag etiquette cards.

C. W. Hannah, a former resident of Santa Ana, a member of company L, Seventh California volunteers during the Spanish-American war, and a member of Hollywood camp, No. 83, attended the meeting and gave a message of good wishes from his camp.

A motion carried that the commander of the camp, Walter W. Tantlinger, be authorized to appoint a mustering committee of five members of the camp, with a past commander as the chairman.

An invitation was then received for the members of the camp to attend a meeting of J. Franklin Bell camp No. 64, April 27th at the Eagles' hall, San Pedro. The understanding is that the latter camp is to be presented with a picture of the late General J. Franklin Bell, on behalf of his widow, and that the camp is to be inspected under supervision of Department Inspector Charles E. Dixon and District Inspector Dan R. Mears.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Calumpit auxiliary No. 39, Department of California, U. S. W. V., had an interesting meeting, with President Nannie E. Reed presiding, last Tuesday night. One application for membership was received and referred to the usual investigating committee. Four applicants were elected to become members and two were initiated. The latter two were Mrs. Belle Baker and daughter, Santa Ana.

Historian Lulu Chailain read a chapter of "The First Shot of the Spanish-American War." The auxiliary having purchased 300 jelly glasses, 25 members took them to their homes to fill them with jelly for the tubercular Spanish War veterans in the Soldiers' home, at Sawtelle. There are 275 of such invalid inmates at the home.

A delegation consisting of Mrs. Emily Lorezen, department aide; Mrs. Muriel Brown, president; Mrs. Gertrude Mort, chaplain; and Mrs. Jane Park, co-treasurer of J. Franklin Bell auxiliary, San Pedro was present.

Mrs. Edna Hannah, secretary of Hollywood auxiliary No. 34, also paid the auxiliary a visit, as did her husband, Comrade Will Hannah, of Hollywood camp, who administered the mustering ceremonies, this meeting having fallen on the annual muster day.

Mrs. Lantz, of Sarah Round tent No. 10, Daughters of Veterans, was admitted to the auxiliary. She carried an invitation to the auxiliary to attend an afternoon tea given by the D. of V., on April 29 as a benefit for the soldiers' widows' home at Sawtelle.

The auxiliary and camp will hold a joint meeting on April 30, at the G. A. R. hall. This is to be a "rube" social meeting and will be preceded by a 6:30 pot luck supper. All Spanish War veterans and their families are especially invited and a fine will be levied against those appearing without "rube" costumes.

Masons

A special Pacific Electric car will tonight deliver to the city some 75 members of the Pacific Electric Masonic club, whose mission involves conferring the third degree of the order upon C. Mullens, agent of the company at Garden Grove, and B. Hale of the city. On account of the comparatively small quarters of the Garden Grove lodge, the Santa Ana lodge extended the use of its lodge room.

The degree team of the Pacific Electric is becoming quite well and favorably known throughout Southern California on account of the extensiveness of its activities. The technical knowledge of the team and its impressive manner of rendering the degree upon fellow employee's has been the subject of much favorable comment by Masonic lodges. The team has conferred an average of four degrees monthly during the last several months.

The Pacific Electric Masonic club was organized four years ago and has now an active membership of 350 employee members. An outstanding feature of its membership roll is that every state in the union is represented, and many foreign countries as well.

Odd Fellows

Approximately 4000 Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families are expected to attend the picnic at Huntington Beach Saturday in celebration of the 106th anniversary of the I. O. O. F. order.

D. W. C. Dimock, Westminister, district deputy grand master of district No. 69, is general chairman, and with his assistants, has arranged a complete program for the day.

The picnic will commence at 10:30 o'clock with an address of welcome by Mayor L. R. Ridenour of Huntington Beach. Invocation will be given by the Rev. J. G. Hurst, pastor of the First Christian church. The principal speeches of the day will be given by S. R. Bowen, president of the chamber of commerce of Huntington Beach and Lyman M. King, Redlands, past grand master.

Free coffee and cream will be served at noon. Those attending are expected to bring their own lunches.

Races for children will be held on the beach during the afternoon. The Musgrave dancing pavilion has been secured for free dancing and special rates have been secured at the plunge.

Santa Ana lodge No. 235 and the Huntington Beach municipal band have arranged a delightful program of entertainment for the afternoon.

The local lodge's program will consist of vocal solos by Madame Budrow, accompanied at the piano by Earl Fraser; a one-act play, "The Sweet Meat Game," directed by Mrs. Gladys Shaffer, and a trombone solo by C. D. Clanton, director of the Santa Ana municipal band.

The program by the Huntington Beach band will be as follows: March, "Billboard," Klroh; overture, "Light Cavalry," Suppe; intermezzo, "Shades of Night," Franklin; trombone smear, "Lasus Trombone," Fillmore; descriptive, "A Hunting Scene," Bucalossi; vocal solo, "Peter Pan, I Love You," Henderson and King; grand selection of songs, including "Marching Through Georgia," "Soldier's Farewell," "Mocking Bird," "The Old Oaken Bucket."

GREELY TALKS ON NEW LAND IN ICY WASTES

By HERBERT LITTLE
(Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—American aviators with the MacMillan expedition this summer probably will find the land they seek in the icy polar wastes, but they will have hot competition. Major Gen. A. W. Greely, retired, leader and one of two survivors of the ill-fated Greeley expedition of the early '80's, predicted in an interview with the United Press.
No less than seven expeditions are preparing for the contest, recalling the bitter races for the pole before 1909, Greely said he had been informed. They are the American, Russian, French, English, Norwegian and two private ventures.
"Amundsen, the Norwegian, has only 700 miles to fly to get to the pole from Spitzbergen, and he should make it. He has told me he is going to get an early start, probably within a month," the old explorer said.
Hale and hearty at 82, nearly half a century after he and his comrades were rescued from the bleak shore of Lady Franklin Bay in 1881, Greely is taking the keenest interest in the American plans and he hopes they will win.
The stake, he is convinced, is a polar continent "somewhere north of 82." He bases his belief on observations he made when he was up there.

Springdale

SPRINGDALE, April 24.—Mrs. B. A. Farrar was hostess at dinner at her home Sunday when she had as her guests, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Pine and son, Herbert Pine and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bennett of Los Angeles.
Mr. and Mrs. George Crane, son, S. J. Crane, daughter, Miss Florete Crane of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Giesler of Greenville, formed a family party to Los Angeles Friday. The party returned by way of Hollywood where Mr. and Mrs. Crane remained as guests of Mrs. Crane's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Cline, until Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham and son, Alvin, of this place, in company with Mrs. Graham's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Giesler of Greenville, motored to Balboa for an afternoon's outing.
Mr. and Mrs. George Gerhart have as their house guests Mrs. Gerhart's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Shepherd and their daughter, Fay, of Long Beach.
Miss Charlotte De returned home Saturday evening from Los Angeles in company with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Louis St. John, whose guest she had been during the week of spring vacation. Mr. and Mrs. St. John remained over Sunday as guests at the Duc home and the two families spent a part of the day at Sunset Beach, where they enjoyed the fishing.
Sim Ten Eyck of the Springdale grammar school board made a business trip to Santa Ana Saturday in the interest of the new school building which is to be built this summer on the site of the present school. Final plans for the structure will possibly be made this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moldal had as Sunday evening guests in their home, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Applebury of Garden Grove, and Mrs. Moldal's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ball and daughter of Los Angeles.
Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Porter have as guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brooks and baby of Los Angeles. They arrived Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. George Gano and family of Fullerton and Mr. and Mrs. Carol King of Huntington Beach, were entertained as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sim Ten Eyck. Mrs. Gano is a sister of Mrs. Ten Eyck and Mrs. King is her daughter.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt, sister and brother-in-law of Leonard Moldal, passed Sunday at the Moldal home. The visitors are of Los Angeles.
Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Roberson entertained friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rodecker and granddaughter, Helen Rodecker, and Mrs. Roberson's cousin, Miss Irma De Barr and Linn De Barr, of Santa Ana, in their home Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Applebury of Garden Grove spent a couple of days this week at the home of Mrs. Applebury's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Modal.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frost and daughter of San Bernardino were entertained at the J. G. Porter home over the week-end.
Frank Houser has returned from a week's vacation trip to Corcoran, King county, where he motored for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Houser.
Miss Ginevra Inman of Norwalk arrived Saturday at the home of Mrs. B. A. Farrar to spend a week as Mrs. Farrar's guest.
The official opening of the Long Beach Country Club was an event of Saturday, drawing large crowds to enjoy the hospitality dispensed by J. A. Somers, superintendent of the club and his assistants, and to try out the fine new golf course.
It was estimated that 80 people were present Saturday afternoon and equally that number in the evening when the dance, which formed the opening affair for the club house, was held. Punch was served during the evening.
On Sunday an equally large number visited the club. There was golf playing all day and between 150 and 200 were served in the dining room of the clubhouse which was opened for the first time that day, observing the schedule which will hold good each Sunday.

Plan Series of Bible Meetings During Summer

CHICAGO, April 24.—Officials of the Moody Bible Institute of this city will travel to varying points in the United States this summer to hold conferences, lasting from one to two weeks Bible teaching, inspirational addresses and special meetings for boys, girls, men and women will be the program at these sessions.

The first meeting is to be at Des Moines, the week beginning June 14. The other conferences will be at Eagle Mere, Pa., July 11 to 20; the ministerial institute at Montrose, Pa., July 29 to 30; Cedar Lake, Ind., July 19 to August 2; Hendersonville, N. C., July 26 to August 9; Ocean City, N. J., August 5 to 16, and Colorado Springs, Colo., August 16 to 30.

Rev. James Gray, president of Moody institute, the Rev. Thornton Whaling, Louisville professor; the Rev. Calvin B. Walker, Little Rock pastor; the Rev. Harold Paul Sloan, Haddonfield, N. J., minister, and H. A. Ironside, writer and teacher in California, will be included in the staff of teachers at the summer sessions.

ELLEN GLASGOW NOVEL DEPICTS NEW SOUTH LAND

New Books

The Great Gatsby (Scribner)—By F. Scott Fitzgerald.—In which Jay Gatsby exhibits the incongruities bred of present-day life.

What Of It (Scribner)—Ring Lardner.—Our greatest exponent of the American lingo goes abroad and writes several burlesques.

Love (Doubleday-Page)—By "Elizabeth"—Wherein May and December wed with biting humor and near-tragedy in the background.

Spring (Knopf)—Ladislav St. Raymond.—The novel prize winner reaches the third and probably finest stage of his epic, "The Peasants."

The Cobweb (Little, Brown)—Margaret Tuttle—Linda Garth meets New York's predatory men and arrogant women and "learns about living from them."

The Spring Flight (Knopf)—Lee J. Smith.—A remarkable chronicle of a young man whose surroundings are 100 per cent American.

Power (Bobbs-Merrill)—By Arthur Train.—A magnate lives to regret that he thought entirely of power and money and forgot about life and other things.

Franken — What every woman knows. Most women will recognize at least part of themselves here.

An Affair of Honour (Little, Brown)—Stephen McKenna.—A newspaper circulation stunt turns into fast moving romance.

By the NEA eBook Survey "Realism has crossed the Potomac!"

In her newest and finest novel, "Barren Ground" (Doubleday, Page) Ellen Glasgow has at last punctured the sentimental tradition of the south.

It has been the custom to follow the fashion of Thomas Nelson Page, George W. Cable and P. H. Hopkins-Smith who painted the southland with a sugar-streaked brush. Here was a land in which all women were "ladies" and fair to look upon; all men were cavaliers and gentlemen.

But, as everybody knows in this workaday world, it is impossible for all people to be "ladies" and "gentlemen." And where this gesture of eternal gentility is made for a sufficient length of time there is good prospect of an indolent and disintegrating society—as Miss Glasgow so splendidly shows.

Just Folk in South So we now learn that the south has cads and women of ordinary human emotions; humans who live, breathe and err like the rest of us. Back of them, we also learn, is "the soil" even as in the middle west of the Willa Cather, Ruth Sukow and Edna Ferber novels; even as in the northland of Knut Hamsun or the Poland of Ladislav St. Raymond.

From one of the decaying family trees comes Dorinda Oakley, of Pedlar's Mills, Virginia, brought up under the influence of "Aunt Mehitable Green" who can "cast spells and remove warts." In the experiences of Dorinda are traced pictures of worthless parents and men who are entirely too fine gentlemen for work. How such circumstances can mold a tragic struggle Miss Glasgow shows in a style the distinction of which reflects her 25 years of writing.

Through it all we see the "new south" rising and transforming and are ready to greet it as some body we know rather than as the "reserved gentleman" of the old southern tales.

Bit by bit we thus become better acquainted with the America in which we live.

Main Street, the wheat country, Chicago, Broadway, the great mid-west have all been psychologized for us by Frank Norris, Sinclair Lewis, Sherwood Anderson, Eugene O'Neill and the rest of the "realists."

And now we are invited to meet face to face our most magnificent "folk hero"—Paul Bunyan. Few dwellers in the cities have so much as heard of this half-true, half-mythical figure whose exploits are known to every lumberjack, hobo and "wobbly." America has few such traditional figures.

There are Rip Van Winkle, one or two of Mark Twain's people and a couple of Bret Hart's California gold camp folk. But none has the epic quality of Bunyan, who may best be compared to the European Tili Eulenspiegel, or Ulysses. Not an imaginative teller in the lumber country but has added something to the gargantuan experiences of Bunyan.

And with a sense of poetry and color that makes for permanence James Steven, who describes himself as having holed in the north-west, has compiled at last his history in "Paul Bunyan" (Knopf).

Such a person as Paul Bunyan actually lived. He was a French-Canadian and figured in the Papineau rebellion of 1837. A giant of a man, tales of his strength and prowess lived far beyond his fighting time, passing from woodsman to woodsman and reaching the American northwest through Canada where he was thoroughly Americanized and took off the characteristic boastings and swaggerings.

Use Indemnity to Educate Chinese

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Rev. Tien Lai Huang, Chinese secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, is authority for the statement that there are 2700 Chinese students in America, 400 of them being supported by the Boxer Indemnity fund. Huang says that about one-third of these students are Christians. There are 800 Chinese students in France, 400 in Germany, 200 in England and about 600 in other European countries, according to Huang. The number of Chinese students in England is likely to increase greatly within the next few years, because the house of commons has voted to apply Great Britain's share of the Boxer indemnity to educational purposes.

York Rite Elects Officers for Year

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—strike of seamen employed by Am York Rite, Royal Arch Masons, in conclave here, named Charles H. King, of Sebastopol, as grand high priest, and Samuel Clark, of Oakland, as grand Royal Arch captain. Starting May 11, five new chapters will be instituted in Southern California—Long Beach, Eagle Rock, San Fernando, Van Nuys and Hollywood.

Mite Is Ravaging Christmas Flower

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Botanic experts at the University of Pennsylvania are being drafted to assist in the destruction of a mite which annually causes hundreds of thousands of dollars' damages to the cyclamen, a widely used Christmas flower in America. At the government experimental station near here, representatives of the U. S. department of agriculture have long investigated the destruction wrought by the mite. The mite, of the spider family, so small as to be virtually invisible, causes a streaking and distortion of the leaves and flowers on the cyclamen plant.

C. S. Kelley's Great Offer to Chronic Rheumatic Sufferers

Money Back If Allenrhu Fails To Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

"It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with chronic rheumatism or have only occasional twinges," says James H. Allen. "I know that Allenrhu, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints."

"I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenrhu made a well, robust, healthy man of me."

"I know because since I cured myself, hundreds have taken Allenrhu and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease."

Allenrhu is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days—even in cases where the suffering has been most painful all traces have disappeared in a few days.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases. With this understanding he has instructed C. S. Kelley Drug Co. and druggists everywhere to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

GIRL STUDENTS AIR VIEWS ON UNIFORM DRESS

Uniform dress was brought up and discussed at the Orange county convention of Girls' Leagues held here Wednesday afternoon. Adherents and opponents of regulation dress among the girls went away with unchanged convictions.

When the suggestion of uniform dress was brought up by the Fullerton high school speaker the Santa Ana girls took issue, opposing the plan. The girls of Fullerton declared that the regulation had proven successful in operation at their school.

Speaking against the proposal, Miss Evelyn Yount, president of the local girls organization, argued that the limitations were unnecessary except in cases of extremes in dress among the girls. Santa Ana was cited as an instance where uniform dress was not necessary.

The convention was attended by delegates from seven county high schools. Sixty girls and faculty advisors were present. The schools of Orange, Garden Grove, Tustin, Anaheim, Fullerton, Capistrano and Santa Ana were represented. Presidents of the Santa Ana Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop junior high school girls clubs also attended.

Various questions relating to Girls' League affairs were discussed. Approval was given the suggestion of the Santa Ana girls that a move be inaugurated at the state convention in the spring session for the adoption of a uniform pin by the California Girls' League associations.

Santa Ana, with the support of the county girls, is to broach the question at the convention to be held at Chaffee Union high school in Ontario on May 9.

Each school sent a student to speak on assigned subjects before the Orange county convention. According to Miss Edith Aiton, faculty advisor for the local girls organization, many good ideas were offered for improving school activities.

Strike of Seamen
Is Set for May 1

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—A strike of seamen employed by American shipping concerns is scheduled for May 1, according to reports current here. The strike, it was said, will be sponsored by the International Union of Marine and Transport Workers. Among the demands to be made, according to reports, are higher wages, union recognition, overtime for holiday work, a 44-hour week and the right of seamen to quit a vessel and be paid off in any port.

HUNT FOR CHINESE WINE

SMELTZER, April 24.—Mrs. E. Ray Moore was the guest Monday of Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake at a social function held in that city at the Women's club house with Prof. Knox, of Whittier college, giving the main part of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodington visited Sunday in Torrence with Mr. Woodington's brother, W. W. Woodington and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Heil and son of this place motored to Saugus on a business trip Wednesday and were accompanied by Mr. Heil's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Harding and children of Bolso.

Mrs. George Stanley and Little daughter of Anaheim came Sunday for a visit of a week to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Grana. The family are planning with relatives for a family reunion to be held Sunday at Hermosa Beach at the home of Mrs. George Benson, a daughter of the Granas.

Mrs. Alma Burns of Stafford, Ariz., arrived Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murdy, to spend some weeks as their guest. Mrs. Burns, who has for a number of years operated a hospital at Stafford, has rented it and came to California for a vacation and to be present at the graduation of her daughter, Miss Ethel Burns from a Los Angeles hospital on May 7.

Maxine Farrar of Huntington Beach, spent the week-end as the guest of her cousin, Muriel Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr has as Sunday afternoon guests in their home, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wilson and two children of Huntington Park; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Haas and two children of Yorba Linda, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Baxter and their two children of Westminster.

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Worthy returned at an early hour Sunday morning to the J. T. Worthy home where their little three-year-old daughter, Barbara Jane, had remained during the absence of a week in Imperial Valley. The motorists encountered a severe desert sand storm when en route to El Centro and extreme hot weather when they reached their destination. The family continued on to Long Beach Sunday morning so Rev. Worthy could fill his pulpit at the morning services.

Merle Parr has been confined to her bed for a week as the result of infection in one of her legs which spread to her knee from the heel, where an apparently slight bruise caused the trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lewis visited Sunday in Los Angeles at the home of Mr. Lewis' mother, Mrs. Laura Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murdy and their daughter, Mrs. Alma Burns, of Stafford, Ariz., who is their house guest, motored to Long Beach Monday to visit relatives.

Mrs. G. M. Roberson went Tuesday to Santa Ana to spend a few days as the guest of friends and relatives.

2 Big Elevators In Chicago Burn

CHICAGO, April 24.—Chicago's worst elevator fire in 20 years, yesterday gutted two huge structures and destroyed approximately two million bushels of corn and oats, doing damage estimated at $2,250,000.

Police are investigating a report that two persons are missing.

The two structures destroyed were under lease by the Grain Marketing company, a farmers' co-operative association.

Spontaneous combustion caused the fire, it is believed.

'U' SITE WAR IS DISCUSSED AT FULLERTON

FULLERTON, April 24.—That the University of Southern California has launched upon an extensive program of expansion, both as to buildings and as to the scope of their various highly specialized departments, but that there is no intention of moving the school from its present location in the city of Los Angeles was the declaration made here by Frank Hadlock, assistant to Harold Stoner, the executive secretary of the institution, addressing approximately 40 members of the Orange County U. S. C. Alumni association, at their monthly meeting held in McAdams' cafe, this city Wednesday night.

Hadlock refuted the current reports that the University of Southern California had accepted 500 acres from Burbank for the site of their school, stating that it is the object of the institution, to continue as a highly specialized professional training school and its location in direct contact with the practical business life of the great city is considered more of an asset than a detriment.

The alumni meeting was presided over by Lawrence Sutherland of Anaheim, president of the association. During the dinner hour various members furnished entertainment which included vocal solos by Julian Marshall, Fullerton; readings by Mrs. Hugo Schultz, Anaheim; and flute solo by Miss Winnifred Roberts, Fullerton.

"Honey" Earl, Fullerton boy, prominent on last year's Trojan football squad and one of the university's "best bets" for the coming season, was present and spoke briefly on the opportunities afforded by U. S. C. to students seeking practical training.

Coach Howard Jones, who will begin soon to whip U. S. C.'s football material into shape for the coming season's scrimmages, was present and gave a characteristic talk on football theory and practice. He modestly admitted that he had coached several championship teams and that he hopes to see the Trojan banner at the top of the pole this year.

The new coach comes to U. S. C. direct from Trinity college, Durham, N. C., where he coached for one year, but his most spectacular teams were the Iowa State squads which defeated Notre Dame in 1921 and Yale in 1922. Graduating from Yale in 1907, Jones coached during 1908 at Syracuse, returning to coach his own college, Yale, in 1909. Ohio State called him in 1910 and after a few years in business he coached another Yale team in 1913. However, he did not fully determine to stick to coaching as a profession until 1916 when he signed a contract with Iowa State which did not expire until 1922.

Business matters considered by the association at the meeting centered around a discussion of methods to assist the college in financially supporting the Alumni work which, until now, has been done entirely at the expense of the university. No definite plan was adopted but the matter will be considered at the next meeting of the association which will be held the last Wednesday, the place of meeting to be announced later.

Rainfall Relieves
Drouth In Texas

DALLAS, Tex., April 24.—Drouth of several months' duration in northern Texas was broken yesterday by rainfall averaging half an inch. More moisture is necessary for growing crops.

In some sections of west Texas, there has been no rain for several months and cattle are reported suffering.

Small grain crops in some parts of the state have been killed by the heat and the dry weather and cotton growers in south Texas, pressed fear for the cotton unless generous rains are received before May 1.

Pours Kerosene On Fire; Youth Dies

REDDING, Calif., April 24.—Albert Aberg, 15, died here of burns received in an explosion when he poured kerosene on a fire in a stove. Attempts of his older brother, John, to save him were futile. The two boys, sons of Ole T. Aberg, were working as janitors in Moose hall, when Albert started the fire.

Santa Rosa Will Revive Carnival

SANTA ROSA, Calif., April 24.—The Rose carnival, famous as a Santa Rosa celebration for 30 years, will be revived this year and presented May 14-16. Announcement says Luther Burbank, eminent plant scientist, will ride in the parade.

CAILLAUX IN DRAMATIC COMEBACK JUST 5 YEARS AFTER TREASON SENTENCE

By MINNITT P. SAUNDERS
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1925, by United Press)
(Copyright in Canada)

PARIS, April 25.—Five years ago last night—April 23, 1920—Joseph Caillaux was summarily summoned to the senate, where the high court was sitting and heard himself condemned to three years in prison and five years of banishment, as well as loss of his citizenship for 10 years.

He departed from that august assembly, head erect, jaw set, proud and haughty as was his customary attitude, but legally and in the eyes of most Frenchmen, a traitor to his country, broken and disgraced. Yesterday Caillaux came back.

Head still erect, but complacent now, with his citizenship restored and the banishment lifted by amnesty, Caillaux took one of the most honorable places in a distinguished assembly on the government bench, entrusted by the president of France with the portfolio of minister of finance and carrying responsibility for rescuing his country from financial disaster.

Caillaux never went back to prison, after that night five years ago, because his sentence dated from the time of his arrest, in 1917, but he

Convention Every Day Detroit Goal

DETROIT, April 24.—Chicago's title of "America's convention city" is the goal that Detroit is driving for, under a slogan of "a convention a day."

An increase of 125 per cent is shown in bookings for this year over last, a report of the Detroit convention and tourists' bureau indicated. If the present rate of increase continues, the goal of a daily convention will be reached, the report stated.

Erection of new hotels that now provide ample housing facilities and all the niceties of service has had much to do with the rapid rate of increase shown in bookings. Location of the motor city in the central part of the country and yet with the advantage of a more eastern atmosphere, proved a deciding factor in many choices as a convention city, the bureau said.

Until Memorial hall is available for conventions, gatherings upward of 10,000 cannot be properly accommodated, however, the report indicated.

Pastors Have to Tend Own Garden

NEW YORK, April 24.—Bishop Titus Lowe, of Singapore, formerly pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church in Omaha, Neb., presiding over the North Sumatra Mission conference at its recent session in Medan, offered prizes to the teacher or pastor making the best garden during the coming year. His principal stipulation was that the man must make and keep the garden himself and that if he put the work off on to his wife or other relative, he was automatically disqualified.

Chinese Tax Hits U. S. Cigaret Sale

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A special 20 per cent ad valorem tax, difficult transportation and slow remittances by dealers have throttled the importation of cigarettes to China, according to advice received by the department of commerce. Imports of cigarettes into China for the quarter ended December, 1924, amounted to $6,345,000 cigarettes, compared with 1923-722,000 in the same period last year.

Damascus Shrine

A party in honor of Mrs. Helen V. Kellogg, worthy high priestess of Damascus shrine, Santa Ana, who is soon leaving to attend the grand shrine meeting at Grand Rapids, Mich., will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Ann Muller, Seventeenth street, Huntington Beach, April 28, at 8 p. m. Mrs. Muller is the noble prophetess of the local shrine.

A group of Damascus members attended the installation of officers of Arabian shrine, Pasadena, a few nights ago. Those making the journey were Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Clelland, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Muller, Mrs. Ethel Trozel Thompson, Noel Beisel, Mr. and Mrs. Judson, Helen Plank, Effie Nicholson, Helen V. Kellogg, Elizabeth Price, Bertha Bruce, Bertha Wolfson, Miss Pearl Nicholson.

Members of Pasadena commandery, Knights Templar, acted as escorts for Archibald T. Hamill, past commander of the commandery, who was the principal speaker.

Daughters of Veterans

A tea to raise funds for the memorial home fund will be held by the Daughters of Veterans in the G. A. R. hall, April 29, at 2:30 p. m. It was announced at the meeting of the organization in the hall Wednesday afternoon. A program will be presented and everyone is invited.

Following the close of the G. A. R. meeting in the hall Wednesday, the daughters served the members with homemade cake, ice cream and coffee. A bouquet of sweet peas was placed at the plate of each member.

COLLAR HAS CENTENNIAL

CHICAGO, April 24.—The shirt collar has its 100th birthday this year. Hannah Lord Montagu, a laundress of Troy, N. Y., in 1825, first noted that the collar itself was ready for the wash and evolved the idea of making the shirt and collar separate.

Free to Any Woman

My youth and beauty helps
By Edna Wallace Hopper

For 40 years I have searched the world for the best beauty helps in existence. I spent nine years in France. And countless experts elsewhere have given me their best.

Those helps made me a famous beauty. They have retained my youth and beauty. The thousands who see me daily on the stage marvel at my bloom.

Now the best I found is placed at every woman's call. Toilet counters everywhere supply them. And I gladly send to all who ask a sample of any for test. I urge every girl and woman to try at my cost, the matchless help I found.

My rosy bloom
I found in France a liquid cleanser, used by famous beauties there. It contains no animal, no vegetable fat, cannot assimilate in any way with the skin. It simply cleanses to the depths, then departs. I call this product my Facial Youth. One use will give you a new conception of what a clean skin means.

I use a super-cream called my Youth Cream. It contains a dozen ingredients which experts have advised for me. These include products of both lemon and strawberry. Also the best that science knows to foster, feed and protect the skin. A test Youth Cream will amaze and delight you.

White Youth Clay
Clay is the greatest help that woman can employ. But not the crude and muddy clays so many have applied. I use a clay which is the final

Order of De Molay

Members of Santa Ana chapter, Order of De Molay, will hold a regular meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Masonic temple, it was stated by James Greeley, master counselor.

A number of plans have been made for the session. The new officers, installed at the last meeting, will assume the stations of the chapter for the first time. The second degree will be conferred on several applicants.

Petitions now out in the membership contest will be returned and the standing of the two contesting teams determined. A dinner treat is to be given by the losing team to the winners. Team captains for the two groups are James Means and Russell Rowland.

The membership drive is being conducted nationally from the central chapter at Kansas City.

No! There is Nothing Just as Good!

"I KNOW because we have used Resinol Ointment ever since our physician first prescribed it years ago. It has never failed to stop itching, relieve skin irritations at once, and usually clears away the trouble in short order."

In thousands of homes Resinol enjoys this same enviable position because it soothes the skin, stops the itching and attacks the real root of the disorder. It works quickly, yet its action is gentle. It costs little and goes a long way. Ask your druggist for Resinol when you want a safe skin treatment.

Choral Union Players Please Anaheim Club

FULLERTON, April 24.—Representatives of the Orange county Choral Union, a non-profit purely artistic organization of the county, provided the program of this week's meeting at the local Rotary club.

The visiting entertainers included Mrs. Lillian Medbury, Santa Ana. Mrs. Sallie Scates, Santa Ana. Mrs. Kate McCulloch, Anaheim. Maurice Phillips, Santa Ana. Norman Price, Anaheim and Jack Hayden, Santa Ana. The vocalists proved themselves to be veritable song birds and entertained the Rotarians and their lady guests with ballads, light opera airs and popular themes.

The popular singers were secured for their local appearance by J. Charles Thamer, chairman of the program committee for the meeting.

Grove Methodist Women Entertain

GARDEN GROVE, April 24.—Last Wednesday at an early hour in the forenoon the Mesdames Mills, Sealover, Dozier, Fitz, Adland and Crow met at the Methodist church and quickly transferred to the social hall and parlor in a veritable hour of beauty. The two rooms were thrown into one and the appearance of a spacious reception room was at once apparent. From the profusion of roses now in bloom a wealth of most beautiful bouquets entwined with greenery decorated well-placed center tables and mantels while floor lamps and easy chairs gave a home-like touch bespeaking warmth of true affection and friendliness.

Wednesday was not a perfect California day but at the appointed hour, 2 o'clock, the invited guests began to arrive until the house was well filled and the dark and dreary day outside was quite forgotten in the light and good cheer that prevailed within.

Mrs. Arkley, who also served as chairman of the transportation committee, had charge of the program, which was quite informal and particularly suited to the occasion. After a few selections of music and readings, residents of the various groups of states were assembled in companies and each group put on a "stunt" telling why they loved the states from which they came. At the close all united in singing "I Love You, California." Some of those furnishing numbers on the program were Mrs. Ed. Dozier, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. German, Mrs. Winters, Agnes Wheeler, Anna Phillips and her brother, Leighton. Tea was served by the service committee of the Aid society.

Queen Esther Club At Grove Gathers

GARDEN GROVE, April 24.—Thirty members of the Queen Esther society met at the M. E. church Tuesday evening for a 6:30 o'clock supper. Mrs. D. C. Hogue and Mrs. Ray Christensen being hostesses for the evening.

Following the dinner Mrs. Archie Struck and Miss Margaret Beatty read a chapter from the study book, "Ming Wong." Mrs. Ray Christensen and Mrs. Wayne Holt sang a duet.

ANAHEIM PARK IS LAUDED BY CITY TRUSTEES

ANAHEIM, April 24.—Anaheim's new park, the first municipal park in Orange county, is rapidly reaching the place where it can be ranked as one of the finest in the Southland, according to city officials who have visited other city playgrounds in Southern California.

Warren Asleigh, newly elected park superintendent, has announced many new improvements for the site, chief among these being the installation of several new games, the addition of children's playground equipment, and the conducting of swimming and athletic events at the city plunge.

Activities are now centering around the improvements in the games, so popular have they become for both young and old. Golf enthusiasts daily flock to the clock golf courses, and so numerous are the players of this unique game that it has become necessary to build another green. Golfers, the game gives excellent putting practice and players find it not only of benefit in this manner but a fine source of amusement during the weekdays when they can only be absent from their business duties for a limited time, and cannot reach the golf links.

Croquet is Popular
Croquet, and a sister game, croquet, which is a more scientific and intricate game than the former, are also proving popular and attracting scores of players to the park daily.

Indoor baseball fans will find joy in the announcement that three indoor baseball diamonds are to be constructed, the center one being lighted in order that games may be in progress during the late evening hours.

Next to the clock golf, however, the lawn bowling ranks in popularity. Daily the crowd of bowlers has increased, until scores of players each day await their turn to bowl. Three new lawn bowling greens are to be arranged at once, to accommodate these persons who seek recreation in this game.

Much Equipment Added
Kiddies of Anaheim are to be well amused during summer vacation days, for numerous swings, slides, horizontal bars, sand boxes and other playground equipment have been added to the already extensive equipment of this sort. Last season, the opening season of the park, such a great number of children flocked to the playground daily, that it was necessary to increase the playground this year and add new features.

Four hours of supervised play afternoon, will also be an attraction which the city will provide, and during these hours, children may be left at the park, where they will be entertained by an instructor, who will teach them new games, and who will conduct a story hour. The wading pool is also provided for the kiddies, where even the tiniest tots may enjoy wading or swimming with no danger of falling into deep water.

With the first warm days heralding the approach of summer, the pleasure of picnicking and strolling barbeques returns. For those who seek the delight of these feasts in the outdoors, barbeque pits and picnic grounds are being arranged in the west side of the park. A huge grass lawn, well shaded by shrubbery, has been set aside for these grounds and benches and tables are to be built here, and barbeque ovens, pits and grills constructed.

An average of 250 swimmers patronize the municipal plunge daily and arrangements have been made to start swimming classes for women and also Red Cross life saving classes. In the latter, tests will be given and all those receiving a satisfactory result will be presented with official Red Cross medals.

A big improvement is to be made at the swimming pool by the construction of a pergola around the entire pool, with the exception of the west side which adjoins the plunge building. These pergolas will be built for the accommodation of spectators, and will be provided with benches and covered with heavy blue wisteria vines for shade. This will not only add to the comfort of the main portions of the pool, thereby accommodating many persons who object to swimming in an outdoor pool because of sunburn.

Several pergolas, equipped with tables and benches, are also to be built at various spots throughout the park, for the playing of games of chess and checkers.

Anaheim's park, consisting of six blocks of ground, is located only two blocks from the center of the city and was purchased two years ago. Last year, the site had been entirely cleared of shrubbery, trees and flowers planted, all of which were carefully selected in order to insure the growing of only the finest plant varieties. The lily beds, which are planted in picturesque lawns that wind through the northern section of the park, are claimed to be the most beautiful in Southern California, containing many specimens of rare varieties.

Brotherhood At Grove City Has Enjoyable Meet

GARDEN GROVE, April 24.—The Garden Grove Brotherhood held a most interesting and profitable meeting at the Methodist church. The program was the first put on by the newly elected program committee and was planned for the boys and young men of the community. The Y. M. C. A. groups from the Baptist and Methodist churches, the Boy Scouts and the high school boys gave stunts while the Methodist orchestra furnished the music with special solos by Mrs. Winifred German and Mr. Johnson of Santa Ana. The Rev. Cecil Rhodes gave an address relative to character building and the importance of right leadership in the organizations seeking to develop strength of character in the young manhood and womanhood of the present day. There were upwards of 80 present.

County Gives Funds To Aid ORANGE FETE

ORANGE, April 24.—That the county board of supervisors had agreed to aid in making the Admission day observance, which will be held here September 9, a success and had appropriated $500 toward the celebration, was the announcement made yesterday by Leon O. Whitsell, Orange member of the board.

The appropriation of $500 was the result of a request made to the county body by M. M. Fishback and W. O. Hart, comprising a committee from the chamber of commerce. Mr. Hart and Mr. Fishback outlined the proposed celebration features to the county board and explained that the expense of sponsoring the event would be approximately $1500.

Admission day programs, to observe the anniversary of the entrance into the union of California, will be held throughout the state from May 1 until December 31, his year, which has been set aside by community and civic clubs as a festival year.

Special publicity features, prepared by a central state committee, will be prepared for each individual celebration staged by the various cities throughout the state, and it is expected that thousands of folders, naming the dates and places of festivals being held, will be circulated in the county soon.

While preparations for the Orange event have not as yet been completed, the proposed program includes a rodeo, baby parade and show and a historical pageant, portraying the progress in civic and commercial life made by California since the period of its infancy.

City Zone Bill Is Endorsed

FULLERTON, April 23.—Fullerton's city fathers placed themselves on record as favoring the so-called "Enabling Act" now before the State Legislature, and instructed City Clerk Fred Hezmalach to communicate to Governor Friend W. Richardson urging his acceptance of the bill if and when passed.

The proposed act will place municipalities in a position to enforce city zoning ordinances that have heretofore been successfully set aside in various decisions. Its passage will see the appointment of a zoning commission here and the ultimate drafting of a zoning ordinance the idea having already received the approval of the local council.

Building Permits Issued In Orange

ORANGE, April 24.—Two building permits for erection valued at $4150, were issued Wednesday by Cal Lester, city clerk.

One of the permits was issued to Mrs. G. A. Mehrood, for a dwelling with garage, valued at $4000, at 1114 West Palm street. H. Lembitz is the contractor who will have charge of the construction.

M. L. Pearsons was given a permit to build a garage, valued at $150, at 810 West LaVeta street.

Fire District at Placentia Is Given Hard Blow

FULLERTON, April 24.—Placentia's fire prevention district organized recently received a death blow at the hands of the county supervisors acting upon an injunction brought by S. W. McCulloch, prominent Placentia rancher, who denied the legality of the district and of the collection of taxes for its support.

Included in the supervisors' resolution condemning the district as illegally formed were instructions to the county treasurer authorizing him to return all taxes already assessed and paid in the district.

The main objection it is stated, to the district as originally formed was the inclusion of much ranch

Police Balk Plot For Bank Robbery

CHICAGO, April 24.—A plot "for the perfect bank robbery" with millions of dollars as the stake, was revealed by Captain of Detectives William Schoemaker.

Henry J. Fernkes, 32, midgey bandit and killer, who has engineered numerous robberies and is accused of four murders, was preparing to descend on a loop bank when police killed the plan. Schoemaker said, Fernkes was arrested several days ago while in a library reading a scientific treatise. A small army of men, tanks of deadly gases, a large quantity of firearms, two automobiles, gas masks and smoke bombs were to have been used in the affair, Schoemaker said.

EVENING SALUTATION

What matters the autumn's coming,
And the fall of the ripened leaf!
There's an endless springtime nearing,
And winter's reign is brief.
Oh, sorrowful thoughts—forget them!
Look forth, with a joy untold,
To the time all hearts have faith in,
When nothing we love grows old.
—Eben E. Rexford.

A JUROR'S ATTITUDE

That it is the duty of a juror to rid himself of prejudices in order that he may look upon the law as it is rather than as he would like it to be was emphasized yesterday in an address to prospective jurors. The speaker was Superior Judge Z. B. West, whose long and honorable service as a judge admirably fits him for participation in any discussion involving a court official's attitude toward his duty.

"Many times we are impressed with the fact that law is a sham thing and of not very binding effect or force upon us, in certain particulars," said Judge West. "If we could rid ourselves of that, and be in sympathy with the law whether we liked it or not, then it would be, and not until then, that we function as citizens of the commonwealth."

And in detailing his idea of a citizen's duty, Judge West aptly pictures the duty of a juror. Jury duty is nothing more nor less than a duty given to certain citizens picked from among the residents of the county. Just as surely as it is the duty of a district attorney, a sheriff or a judge to enforce the law as he finds it, just so it is the duty of a juror to support the law as it is written.

SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRIES

According to a report given to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce by Harry Samuels, its industrial secretary, there are 124 manufacturing enterprises in operation in Santa Ana at this time. Many of these are small enterprises, but even the smallest give promise of development.

While we are looking for new industries and new payrolls for Santa Ana, let us not forget the industries and businesses that already are here. Of these 124 enterprises, many can succeed only through having the co-operation of local residents.

Any worthy enterprises ought to be given a chance to grow. Perhaps the normal growth of the city will carry the enterprise along.

In general, we believe it to be good business for every Santa Anan to give preference to local products. In general, too, we believe that an overwhelming majority of residents of the city are anxious and willing to give their patronage to local concerns. But they do not know local products from products brought into Santa Ana. That being so, obviously there is need of a widespread campaign of education so that Santa Anas may know what our home town products are.

GROWING POPULARITY

By midsummer, according to unofficial figures from the Census Bureau, the United States will have 113,500,000 people. This means a gain of about 8,000,000 since the census was taken in 1920.

So our population is increasing now at the rate of nearly 2,000,000 a year in spite of diminished immigration. This is a yearly increase of half as many people as there were in the country when the government was established.

In 1900 the population was only 76,000,000. That looks very small now. We have gained 50 per cent in a quarter of a century. If the same rate of increase continues, we shall number 170,000,000 by 1950 and more than 250,000,000 by 1975.

Sometimes a single city or state thinks it is not gaining as rapidly as it should. But it is evident that the country as a whole is filling up at a rate which ought to satisfy any citizen. Our great-grandchildren may find it rather crowded if they retain any of their pioneer love of space and outdoor freedom.

INDIAN BLOOD MIXING

The Indian race is not dying out, as many have supposed. It is growing—on the color fringes. The full-bloods are just holding their own. The mixed bloods are increasing at the rate of about 1,000 a year.

Here is another surprise. It used to be traditional that an Indian half-breed was "no good." Yet half-breeds are now turning into substantial citizens, successful farmers and capitalists. There are 43,000 Indians settled on farms, against 20,000 ten years ago, and western banks have $35,000,000 of Indian money.

The race will probably die out in time, just the same, not by extinction but by assimilation. The half-breeds marry more and more with the dominant whites, thinning the red strain in their blood. There are bound to be more and more mixed marriages of the full-bloods. Eventually the "redskin" will be gone, having added a little copper to the average American complexion and a little more calmness to the American character.

THE RADIO MUSHROOM

The radio industry may be regarded as about five years old. The Radio Corporation of America in 1920 sold $2,000,000 worth of receiving sets. Last year its sales were $300,000,000. The industry now employs 250,000 persons. It may be assumed that one family out of every 100 is supported by it. There are 4,000,000 receiving sets in use, with 600 broadcasting stations, furnishing information and entertainment stations, furnishing information and entertainment.

Never has any other industry had such a growth. Other industries developing with mushroom speed have collapsed. There is no sign of the collapse of radio. It is probably only at the threshold of its achievement. One of these times, however, aviation may start and give both radio and motor industries "a run for their money."

SOLITUDE FOR MR. WELLS

H. G. Wells, one of the most celebrated of living authors, is living hidden in an isolated farmhouse "somewhere in France."

Wells has not sored on the world. He simply explains, when an unwelcome interviewer ferrets him out, that he has an important piece of literary work to do and needs several months of "absolute solitude" to complete it. The world, he finds, is too noisy for him to do important work in.

It was not always so. Most of the world's great literary works have been written, its great music composed, its great pictures painted, in cities and towns, with the familiar currents of life flowing around.

But this modern world of railroads, steamships, airplanes, newspapers, telephones, telegraph and radio, and all its industrial and political confusion, is otherwise. The currents roar and whirl around the head of the poor author or artist until he can scarcely realize his own identity and give forth a clear message. What wonder that our men of talent so seldom produce great work?

The public is goodnatured, and doesn't want to rub anything in. Still, it's hard to see why Vice President Dawes, in riding again over the celebrated New England trail once covered by William Dawes and Paul Revere, doesn't use a taxicab.

Bus and Truck Problem

Santa Barbara News.

All over the country the problem of bus and truck competition with railroad and trolley lines is pressing for solution. Day by day the question of regulation of this new form of traffic becomes more grave both for the older carriers and the people.

At a recent hearing in the office of the mayor of Boston, twenty applications from corporations and individuals for the privilege of entering into state and interstate transportation of freight and passengers were heard.

The representatives of railroads and trolley lines attacked what one of them declared to be "illegal, indiscriminate and unwarranted competition" and all the representatives of the old lines said that if they could not have protection they would be forced to curtail commutation service and raise rates.

A representative of the New Haven road said that his company in 1924 carried 8,240,000 less passengers than in the preceding year, with a proportionate decrease in receipts.

Bus competition which is comparatively recent in New England is growing so rapidly that the local train service will be greatly curtailed.

It is an old and well established law of progress that the best and most efficient form of transportation will prevail in competition.

The old stage coach was doomed from the moment the railroad made its advent. The sailing vessel's regime ended with the coming of the steamship. There are indications that the steam driven vessels will retire before the modern motor ship.

Unless the railroads can demonstrate their superiority over the bus and truck or can adopt the newer devices, in local traffic there is more serious trouble ahead for the carrier corporations.

Possibly the solution of the problem will be found in the frank declaration at the Boston conference of the representative of the Boston and Maine railroad that "we contemplate entering the business of bus operation ourselves but under economic rather than wasteful conditions."

One thing is certain, economic progress cannot be halted by corporation edict.

Daylight Saving

San Francisco Chronicle.

It is time for the United States to begin saving daylight hours to give its citizens longer life and greater happiness.

Last Sunday London set its clocks ahead one hour for the summer season, under an act of Parliament that establishes daylight saving as an annual institution without need of new legislation every year. From now on daylight saving is a part of the fabric of British government and a good one.

Daylight saving was one of the good things that came out of the World War. America had a chance to try it, and liked it. Men and women are glad to start the day's work an hour earlier by the sun when it means quitting with the best hours of the afternoon ahead for enjoyment.

After the war daylight saving was permitted to lapse into a local affair. It became a football for prejudice based on old habits. It was made the target for opposition as bitter as it was vague. Some of this was blamed on the farmers, for just what reason no one has been able to get a clear idea.

It is significant that in England, where agriculture is more fostered and better protected than anywhere else, that the great reform has become a permanent national institution.

Since America is too late to lead the way in this humanitarian enterprise, no time should be lost in falling into line.

To be successful, daylight saving must be national and operated under a Federal statute. Congress should pass a law providing that for official time, all clocks should be set ahead one hour at midnight, March 31, and set back an hour September 30 to our present time, for the term of winter.

Undoubtedly many objections will be raised, but none is important enough to stand in the way of this progressive step, and most of these will be found to have no force once the plan is working.

EDITORIAL SHORTS

It is again reported that the foundation of the famous Leaning Tower of Pisa is giving way and that that historic structure is about to topple over. People have been saying that for the past 1200 years, but as Daniel Webster said of Massachusetts, "There she stands!" about 13 feet out of plumb.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

One reason why the country can be saved so often is that saving it does not make it safe.—Boston Herald.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

CIRRHOISIS

The person who leads the "simple life" does not fall a victim to cirrhosis, or hardening of the liver. This trouble, which always results fatally, unless taken under skillful treatment in its early stages, seems in the great majority of cases to be reserved for the high flyers in eating. Other favorite subjects are the inactive "fats" and the socially convivial souls, who drink a little to keep up custom but neglect or sidestep the real health of their bodies.

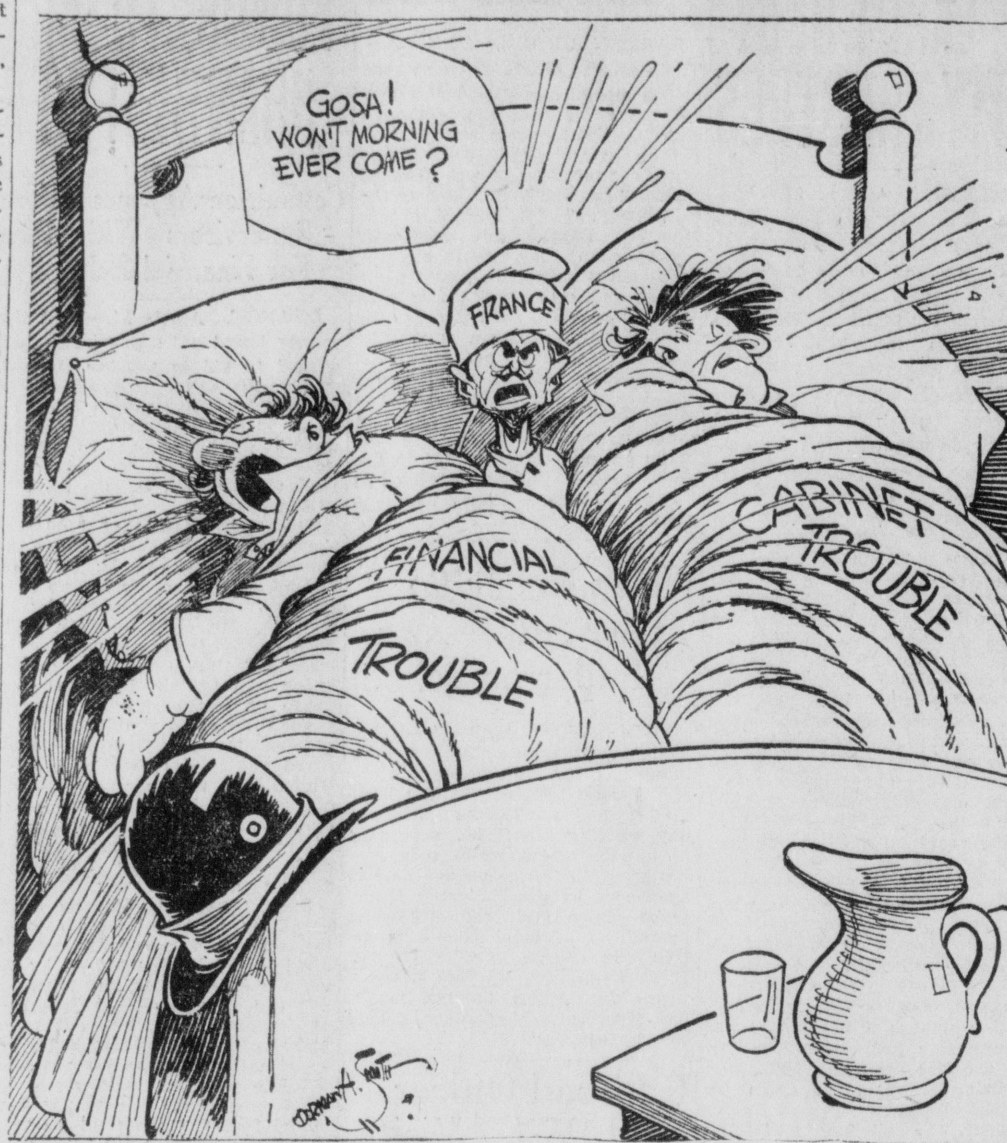

The disease is caused by over-eating of rich, highly-seasoned foods, also by malaria, diabetes and the habitual use of alcoholic drinks. The old-time drinker was a good subject for cirrhosis. The present-day drinker has no time to contract the disease. He succumbs too quickly to the modern drinks. The toxic or poisonous part of alcohol is carried directly to the liver unchanged, from the stomach and intestines.

It starts at once in its destructive work on the cells and connective tissue. The symptoms at first present nothing that seems to interfere with the portal circulation (blood circulation from the stomach, intestines and spleen, into and from the liver). Some loss of appetite, also a decrease in weight, with a sluggish elimination, coated tongue and dyspepsia, are some follow-up symptoms.

The process of shrinking and hardening goes on all the time, however, until the liver is reduced in size and altered in shape. The glands and bile ducts at last become atrophied, while near the final stage the liver is filled with fat particles.

A yearly health examination by your physician will help you to avoid any such condition.

It's a Long Night That Has No Dawn

Land of Opportunity

Industrial News

Some pessimistic newspapers are in the habit of proclaiming that the door of opportunity in this land of the free and home of the brave has been forever closed to the poor and unfortunate.

Some of the yellow journals shout continuously that the poor have no opportunities in America and make appeals to class prejudice to convince the poor that the rich have stolen their birthright and doomed them to industrial servitude.

The best answer to this is given by Roland Hayes, the sensationalist negro soloist, a laundry boy whose mother was a slave and who had reached the heights of a great art and become one of the most popular singers in the world.

Inequalities of life are inherent in human nature and will exist in spite of the most highly paternalistic government. The socialistic idea that all that is necessary is to pass more laws and take wealth from those who have and give to those who have not will never create the utopia of human equality.

All over our country are men and women who, like the negro laundry boy, are overcoming handicaps of poverty, ignorance, racial inequality, social ostracism by their native ability, capacity for work, endurance and character.

Individual effort helped Roland Hayes to scale the heights of success and the door of opportunity still opens freely to those who knock. Preaching discontent to bring about class conflict and social revolution will probably continue to be the favorite and profitable occupation of demagogues.

Worth While Verse

THE CALL OF THE HOME

Thy mountains are drawing me, Eilean and Cho,
Yet nearer, the farther I roam.
Exiled from these awhile,
Home of my heart, my isle,
The far peaks of Coolin are calling me home,
Back again home.

In dream I am hearing the sound of the waves
Breaking upon you lone shore.
The sea-mew is crying there,
Soft winds are sighing there,
Around the gray shieling I'll never see more,
Och mar 'tha mi.

Are you remembering, mendail moghaol,
The promise you gave to me then?

This fond heart is aching,
'Til well nigh the breaking,
To hear your dear voice bid me welcome again,
My darling, my own.

Oh! waves that are beating on yonder green isle
Re-echo that promise to me!
'Tho' wide seas divide us,
Come what may betide us,
It's waiting and hoping and praying I'll be,
My dear one, for thee."

—Jean M. Mackintosh, in the Edinburgh Scotsman.

Time to Smile

SET HIM RIGHT

A Frenchman who had acquired a fair knowledge of English from a tutor was called upon to address a group of London business men.

"Zichenstemmen, I do not wish to cockroach upon your time," he began, and immediately realized he had made a terrible blunder from the looks on the faces of his hearers. Afterwards he asked his English tutor what he had done.

"Why, you said 'cockroach' when you should have said 'hen-croak.' It was awful!"—Capper's Weekly.

RIGHT BACK AT HIM

A rather portly negro mammy was puffing and exerting herself as she tried to rise from her seat in a street car.

"Better eat some yeast, Auntie, and you'll rise better," a fresh young collegian advised her.

"You'll try it y'osef, young man, an' maybe you'll be better bred."—Capper's Weekly.

SUPERIOR TRAINING

Peggy had been to the circus and mother thought to impress a lesson.

"When dogs and ponies and monkeys obey so well, don't you think a little girl ought obey even more quickly?" she said.

"So I should, mummy," was the instant reply, "if I'd been as well trained as they have."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop was shaving his face in front of the bathroom mirror Sunday morning and I was standing there watching him and asking him questions, saying, "If you swallowed any of that lather what would it do to you, pop?"

It would enable me to blow beautiful soap bubbles through my nose for the next 24 hours, which would be too short a time to get me a job on the stage but long enough for my own amusement, pop said.

I'm just making that up and proving he was in a good humor with himself, and I said, "If you kept on shaving one side of your face up and the other side down, would your beard start to grow up one side and down on the other."

I never tried it and please don't put thaws like that in my head, because this is a very conventional world and one man is supposed to look just like another, so if I started to go around looking the way you suggest, it might be bad for me in a business way, pop said.

And he kept on shaving his face and I kept on looking at him, saying, "What did people use to do before they had any razors, pop?"

Before the invention of the razor by Thomas Edison, primitive men had to get rid of their whiskers by the very tedious process of tying a grain of wheat to each hair so the birds would fly down and pull them out, pop said.

Did you wish you had to shave when you was my age, pop? I said.

Owch, now I went and cut my ear, confound it, is this any time to come and gabble to me when you see I'm shaving? pop said. Now get out of here, he said.

Wich I did without arguing.

To Explore the Weather

Scientific information of high value will accrue from the exploration of the world's biggest unknown area by the MacMillan Arctic expedition under the auspices of the National Geographic society, with the active co-operation of the navy, according to a bulletin issued at the society's Washington, D. C., headquarters today.

"Data which will be collected by members of the expedition and observations made by the United States navy fliers are of potential value to navigators, farmers and fishermen," the bulletin explains.

"The major geographical fact is that the huge unexplored area, a million square miles, lies between two American flags, that which flies over Alaska and that which Peary planted at the North Pole. In this area, more than three times the size of Texas, there is the possibility of a new continent being discovered, and the probability of land of some kind.

WHY LAND IS EXPECTED.
"The existence of this land is postulated on reports of explorers who have skirted the edges of the unknown area, and of observations of tides and ice conditions along this fringe, which conditions indicate the existence of land.

"Should such land exist it will be of great future economic importance in view of the commercial flying that, in years to come, will be done across the Arctic regions.

"The combination of aircraft and radio in Arctic exploration is a new feature of exploration, which not only adds romance and adventure to the undertaking, but which enhances the scientific value of the expedition.

NEW ERA IN EXPLORATION.
"Hitherto our information about the Far North has been from explorers who had to penetrate it, in winter when the ice was continuous; summer flying makes possible observations of entirely different conditions, with 24 hours of daylight to aid the fliers.

"This same daylight, however, as radio fans will realize, is a handicap to broadcasting, because night time is radio time. The use of the new wave length apparatus, under these new conditions, is an experiment which will be of value to the new science of wireless communication.

"Upper air temperatures in the Far North are almost as little known as the million square miles which may shroud a long-hidden continent. Summer records of these conditions not only will have a value to future flying, but may have a direct bearing on weather forecasting.

"Forecasting weather consists largely in detecting new disturbances as they show up on the western and northwestern borders of the United States, learning their characteristics, and figuring out the paths they probably will follow because of prevailing barometric pressures and temperatures ahead of them.

TRACKING WEATHER.
"The great majority of what the weather forecaster call the 'lows'—that is the area of subnormal barometric pressure—seem to originate over the warm sea south of the Aleutian islands in the winter, and over the interior of Alaska during the summer. But some of the conditions which cause these 'lows' to be 'built up' in those places and create 'highs' to the east have their birth farther north in the polar regions, and a better knowledge of temperatures, pressure and wind changes there undoubtedly would facilitate weather forecasting.

"In the search for the beginning of its weather the United States is not concerned with the entire polar regions. It is most concerned, it happens, with the unexplored territory which lies north of Alaska.

"Temperatures, pressures and wind conditions—the vital weather factors—are not known in the regions north from Alaska to the pole. Explorations of this area is a preliminary to making detailed observations of these conditions which directly affect farms and orchards in the United States."

NAVY'S PART IN EXPLORATION.
Speaking of the navy's part in the expedition, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic society, today said:

"Two of the outstanding men of their generation in the history of polar exploration were officers of the United States navy—Charles Wilkes, who discovered the Antarctic continent on January 19, 1840, and Robert E. Peary, who attained the North Pole on April 6, 1909. Both were acting under the orders of the president and secretary of the navy.

"It is a matter of pride to the members of the National Geographic society that the monuments to Peary and Wilkes in the Arlington National cemetery, were placed there by their society.

"With these two names may be grouped other navy men whose enterprise and daring have added to our knowledge of the world. Among them are Charles Francis Hall, who pushed north from Thank God harbor to within less than eight degrees of the North Pole in October, 1871; George W. De Long, who lost his life in polar work; William Francis Lynch, who in 1848 conducted a valuable official survey of the Jordan river and the Dead sea; Matthew Calbraith Perry, who so diplomatically opened Japan to the outside world in 1853, and Thomas Oliver Selfridge, who conducted surveys for a canal across the Isthmus of Panama in 1869-73."

NO. 17—THE MAGIC SNUFF DOES MORE MISCHIEF

As Nancy and Nick hid in the dish of fruit on the king's table in Beanstalk Land, and Mr. Whizz, the fairyman, hid in a tulip in the center of the same table, their sharp eyes were busy.

They saw Snitcher Snatch, the little goblin (hiding in the folds of gold lace in the queen's collar, he was) take out the snuff box he had stolen, and blow snuff up the queen's nose.

And when the queen sneezed and the soup flew off everything and there was such a general fuss about it getting into the king's eyes, they decided it was a good time to get away.

They had another reason for wishing to get out of that. When the queen sneezed, the little goblin flew over the butler's head, straight out of the window, snuff box and all.

"Quick or he'll get away!" cried Mister Whizz as they climbed down the table cloth and rushed for the door.

What did they see but the goblin riding away for dear life on the black Beanstalk Cat, which was a special pet at the castle, and at last stayed around at meal times.

As luck would have it, the royal Beanstalk Dog came along just then.

"See him!" cried Mister Whizz as he and the Twins climbed up on his back—to his great astonishment.

Whether he was a good dog and used to obeying order, or whether it was because he was so astonished at three little creatures climbing up on his back, I don't know. But he started after the Beanstalk Cat like a streak of lightning.

"Mew! Mew!" shrieked the Beanstalk Cat making for a high fence.

"Wart, wart! Bow, wow, wow!" barked the dog standing up on his hind legs so that Mister Whizz and the Twins had all they could do to hold on.

"The cat reached the top of the fence and ran along to a place of safety.

"Good-bye!" shouted the goblin, for he knew very well who was after him. "Good-bye! I still have the snuff box and I'm going to have some more fun with it before I get through."

With that he jumped down to the other side of the fence and was gone.

"Quick!" cried Mister Whizz. "We'll have to get the aeroplane and follow him. I wonder where he's going next."

"With watch and tell you," said a Beanstalk bird sitting in a Beanstalk tree. "I can see him running. He's running to the place where the magic beanstalk touches Beanstalk Land."

"He can't get down," shouted Nick. "The beanstalk fell over. We had to come up in an aeroplane."

"If one of the magic beans touched the ground, another beanstalk would grow at once to take its place," said the bird. "Yes, I can see. He is climbing down now."

"Quick," said Mister Whizz. "Where's my aeroplane? Oh, there it is."

Soon they were inside and in a few minutes Beanstalk Land was far behind them.

Nick took a spy-glass and looked for the goblin.
